Cycle Mishaps Fatal To Six Over Weekend

By The Associated Press
The motorcycle carrying two 17-year-old boys was clipping along divided U. S. 31 expressway in Muskegon at about a mile a minute. Suddenly, the auto ahead of the youngsters swerved to the side.
When it did, the two saw another car going the wrong way on the highway and coming straight at them. It was the last thing they saw.
The head-on collision Sunday killed Jeffrey Lyle Frazer and Larry French, both of Fruitport, and seriously injured the 12-year-old driver of the car.
"The boys never had a chance," said a city policeman.
The two were among six persons fatally injured in motorcycle mishaps in Michigan during the weekend as the state's traffic death toll soared to 29.
There were four drownings.
The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.
Airman 2nd Class Gary Winston Simmons, 22, of Kingsport, Tenn., who was stationed at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base at Marquette, when the car in which he was riding ran off a rural road two miles south of Marquette Sunday and rolled over.

Vote On Millage

HOLLY (AP)—Voters in the Holly School District balloted today on a proposed increase of five mills in school operating taxes. An identical proposal lost by one vote in an election June 13.

Israeli Air Raid On Syria Debate In UN Is Today

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council meets today to discuss the Israeli air raid on the Syrian project to divert waters of the River Jordan.
Syria and Israel each filed complaints against each other. Syrian Ambassador George J. Tomeh and Israeli Ambassador Michael S. Comay were to speak first in the council debate.
Comay wrote the council that

Rain, Guards Keeping Peace At Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—White and Negro leaders looked today for ways to prevent a new outbreak of racial violence in Cleveland's East Side slums, wracked with a week of sniping and incendiary fires before order was restored.

Police and National Guardsmen, helped by a heavy rain, maintained the peace for the second straight night, prompting Police Chief Richard R. Wagner to say: "We are not prophesying or predicting but we are hoping the riots are over."

The rioting, which began last Monday night, left 1 dead, nearly 50 injured and heavy property damage.

As the unrest abated, white and Negro leaders got together over the weekend and formed a broader base of understanding in an effort to deal with some of the problems at the root of the violence.

Baxter Hill, president of the Cleveland chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, called the new group "a step in the right direction."
"There will be peace in the Negro community now," he predicted, "but we expect some positive effort soon to solve the problems of racial infestation, of litter and garbage and of unemployment in the Negro areas."

The first material step was taken today with the establishment of an employment center to find work for those who had lost their jobs at stores burned and looted during the week of violence.

Chief Wagner is expected to recommend withdrawal soon of National Guard troops. Relative peace began to develop Saturday night, and Sunday night was even quieter than normally for the area.

Sunday in Hough was much like Sunday in any other community. Some families lounged peacefully on porches of their homes and others went to church.
Many sermons followed the line of that of the Rev. Dr. A. Henson Jarman of the Fellowship Baptist Church. He told his congregation nonviolence was the only way for a minority group to achieve social justice.
The week-long racial strife started Monday night at a tavern in the heart of Hough over the refusal to serve ice water and reached riot proportions when mobs swarmed into the streets, burning, looting and shooting.

the raid was meant to show Syria how gravely Israel viewed "continual Syrian violence." He blamed Syria for four land-mine explosions in Israel that had killed two Israelis in the 24 hours before the raid.
Comay had previously accused Syria of being "the source, training ground, principal supplier and main support of a vicious terrorist organization variously known as El-Fatah (Conquest) and El-Asefa (Storm), organized to penetrate into Israeli territory and carry out acts of terrorism and sabotage."

Tomeh in a letter to the council denied that the mines were planted by infiltrators from Syria. He said Syria could not "be held responsible for the activities of El-Fatah and El-Asefa." He declared that the Israeli planes had hit mechanical equipment, destroyed bulldozers and killed a woman.

The Syrian ambassador said the planes struck "the area in which an economic development plan of vital importance to Syria and neighboring countries is taking place."

He went on: "Israeli officials have made no secret that they will prevent the execution of this plan by force. The Israeli authorities, actively engaged as they are in usurping the Arab waters of the Jordan river, are determined to prevent any Arab country from proceeding to good use of its waters."

The Arab river-development scheme is a reaction to a similar Israeli scheme. In 1964 Israel started piping Jordan water to the Negev Desert and warned that she would "act for the preservation of her vital rights" if the Arab countries took "unilateral and illegal measures." An Arab League summit meeting in Alexandria then called for "immediate work on projects for the exploitation of the waters of the River Jordan and its tributaries."

Morse Readies Bill For Ending Airlines Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., overhauled his proposal for ending the 18-day airline strike today and said the Senate should pass it as soon as possible.

Republicans were at work on a strike-stopping bill of their own, raising the possibility that a dispute over the proper course might delay the first phase of congressional action.

Morse, who first proposed a bill that would have the government run the airlines while the contract dispute is settled, scrapped that for another which would pave the way for a back-to-work order and set up a mediation panel to seek a permanent settlement.

At the labor department, Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds said negotiations were stalemated and that there was virtually no chance of agreement as long as emergency legislation was being seriously discussed in Congress.

"Everybody is going to wait and see what kind of a shoe is dropped up there," Reynolds said after another fruitless round of talks with the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists and negotiators for United, Eastern, National, Northwest and Trans World Airlines.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he had no timetable for possible floor action on a bill to halt the strike.

Both Mansfield and Morse said President Johnson had not been consulted on the effort to end the strike through legislation.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said he was drafting legislation that would force arbitration of the airlines dispute.

He said it was almost identical to the bill Congress passed three years ago to block a threatened railway strike.

The five struck airlines have estimated their revenue losses for far total almost $126 million. They also estimated that striking and furloughed employees have lost almost $29 million in wages since the walkout began.

Reynolds said he gave both sides Sunday a "last chance" to change their positions toward reaching a settlement without congressional action, but that neither union nor management had budged.

Griffin Points To His Record On Civil Rights

By The Associated Press
Republican U. S. Senator Robert Griffin said Sunday that civil rights, in his opinion, will not be an issue in the fall's U. S. Senate election.

"That is not saying civil rights isn't a problem," Griffin said at a GOP women's tea in Detroit, "because it is still a serious one. As an issue, however, I think if you look at my record, you'll see what I mean."

Griffin said he had voted in favor of every civil rights bill in the last 10 years.

Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, a contender for the Democratic U. S. Senate nomination, voiced concern in Detroit Sunday over the type of campaign his opponent, Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, may wage in the closing week of the fight for the nomination.

"In the next few days there will be a lot of frantic campaigning, Williams told a crowd at a downtown park.

"There will also be a lot of wild and irrational charges," he said, "and they won't be made by me."

Speaking on world affairs, the former governor said economic aid to South Viet Nam would be effective way to back our peace efforts there.

Both Williams and Cavanagh are planning intensive use of radio and television advertising in the last few days of the campaign.

Cavanagh is planning two hour-long statewide shows to climax his campaign.

Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell

Gen. Stilwell Is Missing At Sea

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Brig. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell Jr., commander of the Army's special warfare center at Ft. Bragg, N.C., was aboard the twin-engine DC3 aircraft missing in flight between San Francisco and Honolulu, his mother said today.

His mother, widow of Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell of Pacific war fame, confirmed at her Carmel home that he was on the plane. At the Presidio in San Francisco, it was learned Stilwell had been invited by a longtime personal friend, Hal Grimes, to make the flight.

Grimes was piloting the missing plane.

A massive search for the plane is under way about 500 miles west of San Francisco.

Mrs. Stilwell said her son went on the flight as copilot. He has a pilot's license and was working to obtain his instrument rating.

She said he and Grimes thought this would be an excellent opportunity to gain experience on the 20-hour plus, 2,400-mile overwater trip to the islands.

The plane, which left Saturday night, reported at 3:40 a.m. Sunday that one of its two engines had to be feathered. That was the last word from it.

The Coast Guard reported no trace of the old plane, or any wreckage had been sighted.

The aircraft carrier Yorktown, three destroyers, three Coast Guard cutters and 20 Coast Guard, Navy and Air Force planes searched the flight path the troubled plane would have taken had it succeeded in turning around for return to San Francisco.

Gen. Stilwell, commander of the rugged "Green Beret" troops at the North Carolina post, left Fort Bragg July 20 to make several speeches in the West and then take a three-day leave. He was due back at Ft. Bragg Tuesday.

Week-Long Debate Is House Prospect For Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House takes up a highly controversial civil rights bill today with its members in an uneasy mood due to racial violence in some Northern cities.

The bill would arm the government with several new weapons to combat racial discrimination, but nearly all the controversy surrounds a proposal aimed at improving housing opportunities for Negroes.

Although it is much milder than the outright ban on discrimination in housing the administration requested, and would leave most individually owned residential homes untouched, the provision has been bitterly attacked, particularly in the North.

A quick test comes when the House votes after an hour's debate whether it actually wants to consider the bill. If it does, a week of debate is in prospect. This is the first of the five civil rights bills Congress has considered in the last 10 years that would have a major impact on the North. As a result it has much less support than its predecessors.

Further clouding its chances is widespread confusion among members over the actual effect of the housing provision, adopted as a compromise by the Judiciary Committee.

Aimed mainly at real estate agents, builders and others in the business of selling or renting housing, the provision exempts homeowners if they engage in no more than two real estate transactions in a year.

Its author, Rep. Charles M. Mathias Jr., R-Md., says a real estate agent acting on behalf of an exempt owner also would be exempt.

Cong Guerrillas Strike Back In Southern Area

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—North Vietnamese army regulars, faded into the jungles near North Viet Nam's border today after mauling a U.S. Marine company in a blazing week-end fight. But the Viet Cong struck on the fringes of Saigon, Force F109 jet fighter and attacking a string of government outposts.

Guerrilla groundfire brought down the jet 20 miles outside Saigon but U.S. military officials said the pilot was ejected and was recovered safely. It was the 118th U.S. Air Force plane lost in the South.

Hours earlier, the Viet Cong hit nine South Vietnamese outposts in a crescent south of the capital with machine gun and mortar fire. They also attacked a camp for Communist defectors 26 miles to the south, then withdrew after wounding several former comrades.

The wave of hit-and-run attacks south of Saigon was a Communist response to the large-scale ground and air operations elsewhere in the country by American, Korean and South Vietnamese troops.

In the far north just below the demilitarized zone, U.S. Marines continued to press into the rugged hills and deep jungles where 600 North Vietnamese regulars have been reported killed in an 11-day sweep.

The U.S. command in Saigon said the fighting had tapered off after rear-guard North Vietnamese troops inflicted heavy losses on a company of Marines. The enemy kept up harassing fire during the night but the bulk of the North Vietnamese 324B Division appeared to have evaded the Marine sweep by fleeing toward Laos.

An American spokesman in Saigon said the division had been badly chewed up.

The harried North Vietnamese regulars caught a rain of bombs this afternoon from high-altitude B52s. The Air Force said the B52 raid from Guam, the third in South Viet Nam today, hit a suspected regimental command post only two miles south of the 17th Parallel.

Hit Outposts
The nine guerrilla attacks south of Saigon were aimed at small outposts held by lightly armed South Vietnamese militia forces. Starting a few hours after midnight the Viet Cong began harassing posts strung in a crescent about 16 to 25 miles south of the city.

Most of the attacks were limited to mortar fire or machine-gun bursts from the darkness. The Viet Cong attempted to overrun two posts held by 25 or fewer South Vietnamese. In both cases the Viet Cong were hurled back, and they melted into the night.

A government spokesman said the South Vietnamese suffered no casualties in most of the brief fights and the Viet Cong carried off all except three of their dead.

Although weather hampered air assaults in the North, a military spokesman said Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots flew 82 missions Sunday against fuel dumps, supply lines, trucks, barges and bridges. American pilots did not sight any MIGs or surface-to-air missiles, he said.

Pilot Rescued
A Navy A4 Skyhawk was brought down by conventional fire but the pilot parachuted into the Gulf of Tonkin and was picked up within 20 minutes. It was the 308th U.S. plane announced lost over North Viet Nam.

In Operation Hastings on the northern border a Marine helicopter crashed killing one crew member, in approaching a combat landing zone.

In South Viet Nam Sunday, Air Force, Navy, Marine and Vietnamese pilots flew 549 strike sorties, many of them in support of the Marines fighting in Operation Hastings.

Destroyer Aids
The Navy destroyer John A. Boyle steamed in to support the Marines, firing a dozen five-inch shells into suspected Communist dugouts.

The Hanoi regulars kept up heavy fire against the two

Autobahn Crash Of Bus Kills 28 Belgian Children

LIMBURG, Germany (AP)—A bus taking 40 Belgian school children home from a holiday crashed off an autobahn bridge today killing 31, police reported.

They said 28 boys and girls, aged 10 to 17, two teachers and the driver were killed in the crash, one of the worst accidents on the Frankfurt-Cologne superhighway. All survivors were seriously injured, police said.

The bus broke through guard rails on a bridge at Idstein, about 45 kilometers northwest of Frankfurt, and somersaulted down more than 30 feet, landing with its wheels up on a road below.

The roof supports of the bus collapsed under the impact. Police were at first unable to determine how many dead and injured were in amongst the tangle of bodies, baggage and wreckage.

Police said the party was from Brussels, where the bus was registered.

A team of a dozen doctors gave first aid to the injured and dying children as they were freed from the wreck by firemen.

A Germany army officer was also killed in an accident at the scene of the crash, where a traffic jam formed caused by drivers stopping to look at the wreckage. A car skidded across the dividing strip into the oncoming lane and hit the officer's car, police reported.

Brooklyn Area Quiet Returns

NEW YORK (AP)—Racial peace has returned to the East New York section of Brooklyn.

The area was quiet Sunday night and Saturday night after almost a week of nightly racial turmoil.

Three days of peacemaking efforts by public and private agencies ended Sunday.

Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Aaron E. Koota said he would meet today with Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary to seek information on "what criminal responsibility, if any, was behind the disorders."

Leary has said his department was not aware of any outside influence in the half-mile-square neighborhood which is largely a slum. Negroes, Puerto Ricans, Italian-Americans and other whites had clashed in the seething area.

Two Negro neighborhood leaders charged last week that professional agitators from outside the city had infiltrated East New York.

An estimated 1,000 policemen have been in East New York each night since Thursday, when a Negro boy, Eric Dean, 11, was slain by a sniper's bullet.

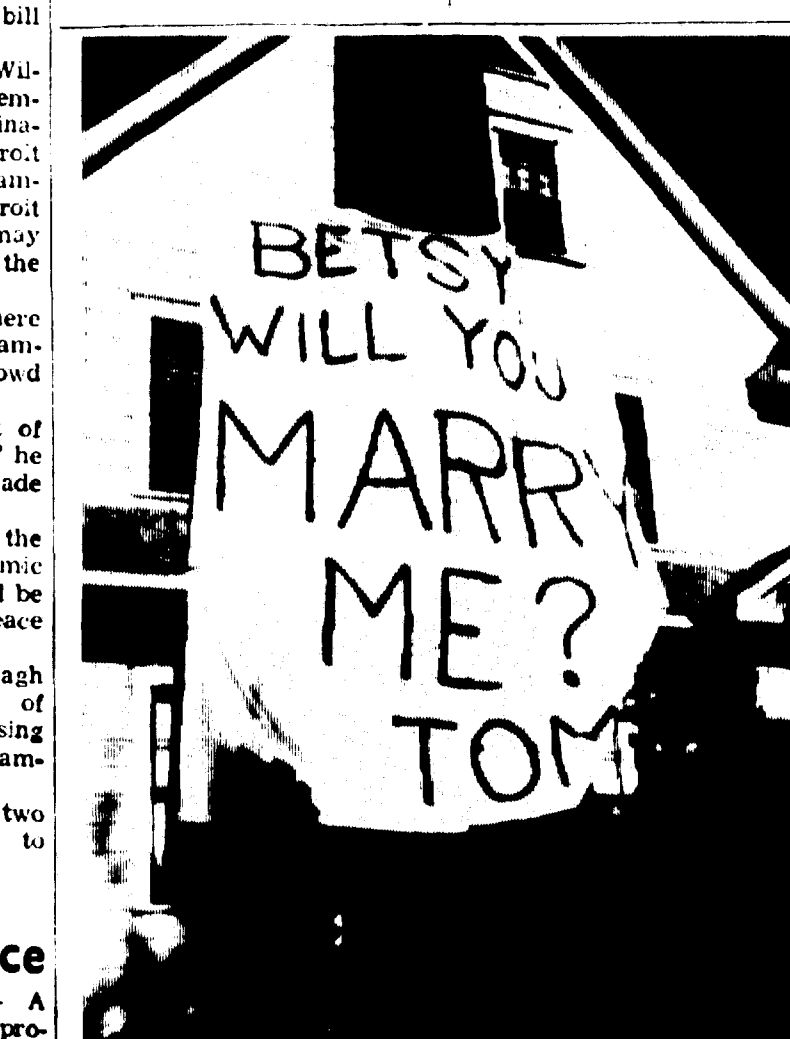

Chief Inspector Sanford D. Garelik, who was at the special police command post in East New York, said early today: "I am going to keep the same number of men here for the next few days to be safe."

Accompanying Garelik was Deputy Chief Inspector Lloyd Sealy, highest ranking Negro in the department.

Ford's Tractor Sales Are High

BIRMINGHAM (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. today reported its highest first-half-year tractor sales since 1959. Ford said January-June sales were 86 per cent above the same period last year and reflected the "high level of the general agricultural economy."

Ford said it sold 21,600 tractors in the first six months of this year. This included 12,200 in the second quarter, or 62 per cent above the second quarter last year, Ford said.

ELIZABETH BOGART first saw this sign, put up on her East Lansing home by her beau Tom Green during the night, when she got in her car to go to work. She was so excited, she drove over the curb, got out of the car and started crying. Miss Bogart plans to accept the proposal. (AP Wirephoto)

St. Ignace Hopes It's "Yes"
Family Is Offered Home

DETROIT—When are they coming?
That question is being put daily to St. Ignace motel-restaurant owner who offered a new home to 10 River Rouge children after their mothers' death last week.
The more than 3,000 townspeople of the Upper Peninsula community have told Louis Yellin, who wants the children to live with his family, that everyone is hoping the children will accept his invitation.

"People are anxious to welcome them and make them want to stay," said Yellin.
Determined son
His offer was made in a long distance telephone call to the eldest son, Ronald Yellin, 29, who is determined to hold the family together in their small city-owned project home while working as a 12-hour-a-day steel mill laborer.
Yellin, a Vietnam veteran, resigned from a hoped-for career in the Marine Corps last spring to care for his nine brothers and sisters when their widowed mother began succumbing to cancer.

Himself an ex-Marine, Yellin called the family's home within minutes of reading about Ronald's resolve in The Detroit News.
Plans Trip
Ronald said he plans to travel to St. Ignace with his parish priest "in the next few weeks" to meet the Yellin family.
"Then maybe I will go back later with some of the children," he said. "It is a wonderful generous offer."
Meanwhile, Yellin said, the first thing that people ask when they meet him on the street is whether there is any news about the children.
Some want to help him bring the family to their community for a visit.
A parking lot owner with a bus which used to shuttle tourists to the Mackinac Island ferry has offered it to bring the children on a trip.
"It is a kind offer," Yellin said. "But even with the large number of kids, nothing as big as a bus is needed."
The bus can hold 60 passengers.

Hart Says End
Death Penalty
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart introduced today a bill to abolish the death penalty for federal crimes and subject the life imprisonment.
"The death penalty is a symbol of a dying order of society and death," the Michigan Democrat said, adding that there is no evidence that capital punishment deters crime.
The bill would not affect capital punishment under state laws. But Hart said 13 states already have abolished the death penalty and he hoped his bill would encourage other states to do so.
He also said 72 nations have eliminated executions either by law or custom, with Great Britain "the most recent and impressive example."
"The death penalty is ineffective in deterring crime," Hart said in a prepared Senate speech. "It is discriminate against the poor and friendless. And the mistakes, few but notable, which are made in its application are irreparable."
Federal law carries the death penalty for such crimes as kidnapping, espionage, treason, aircraft piracy, train robbery and assassination. Military personnel can be executed for aiding the enemy, cowardice, desertion, sedition and spying.
In addition, the District of Columbia, run by federal law, has capital punishment for rape and murder.
Hart, in urging abolition of the death penalty in these cases, cited a mass of statistics that he said had convinced him capital punishment is ineffective in deterring crime.

Piggins Starts
Another Probe
DETROIT (AP) — Circuit Judge Edward Piggins will start five weeks to go to Wayne County grand jury today to begin an investigation of alleged gambling by Detroit and county employees in the City-County Kidding.
Joseph B. Sarnow, administrative officer of the county treasurer's office, said Saturday morning he had warned employees that they would be fired if caught making bets.
The Detroit News said today that suspected employees were "under the close surveillance of supervisors." The paper added that published ads to horse bettors "were not doing as badly as usual, at a newsstand a block away" from the downtown Detroit building.
The one-year term of the Piggins grand jury ends Aug. 31.

Arkansas Vote
Runoff Sighted
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A possible two-month campaign ends Tuesday as seven men vie for the Democratic nomination for Arkansas governor in a primary at which the administration of Gov. Orval E. Faubus has been an issue.
Winthrop Rockefeller, brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, is seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination and is expected to be the man the GOP picks to oppose the Democratic winner in the November election.
With Faubus not a candidate for the first time since 1954, a runoff between the top two Democratic candidates seems assured. A candidate would need more than 50 per cent of the vote to escape a runoff Aug. 9. Polls reportedly show no candidate has more than 25 per cent.
About 400,000 of the state's 647,631 registered voters are expected to vote with about an eighth of the anticipated turnout voting in the GOP primary.
Faubus, who defeated Rockefeller two years ago in the state's first real interparty fight since Reconstruction, said he would not take part in the primary and he has made no public utterances for any candidate.
However, Rockefeller and some Democratic candidates for governor have sought to make use of some incidents that occurred in this Faubus term.
These include the building of a new Faubus home at his hometown of Huntsville, with estimates of its cost ranging from the governor's $70,000 to the GOP's $250,000; the granting by state officials of some $2.5 million in secret pay raises — which later were rescinded — for highway department employees; and substantial increases in auto insurance rates by state officials, also later rescinded.

Funeral Of Actor
Montgomery Clift
Will Be Tomorrow
NEW YORK (AP) — A funeral service will be held Tuesday for actor Montgomery Clift.
Clift, 35, was stricken Saturday with a coronary caused by hardening of the arteries. He died in his Manhattan apartment.
Born in Omaha, Neb., Clift started his acting career at age 13 in an amateur production in Sarasota, Fla. A year later he was on Broadway in "Fly Away Home" starring Thomas Mitchell. In all, Clift appeared in 13 Broadway plays.
Clift shunned the glamour of Hollywood, staying there only long enough to make pictures.
Among the 10 movies in which he starred he was nominated for an Academy Award in "The Search," "From Here to Eternity" and "A Place in the Sun." However, he never won an award.
Clift, who never married, is survived by his mother, Ethel Clift of New York City; a brother, Brooks, of Atlanta, Ga.; and a sister, Ethel McGinnis of Austin, Tex.

McNamara Urges
NATO Spread
Out The Costs
PARIS (AP) — U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara urged the North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies today to build an ever-stronger force and at the same time spread the costs more evenly.
He spoke at a NATO defense ministers' meeting where plans for the next five-year plan are being considered.
Informed sources said McNamara strongly challenged the idea heard in the United States and elsewhere that NATO forces could be reduced because the likelihood of conflict with the Soviet bloc seems to be diminishing.
"We believe a three-reduction," he said, "and we believe we should meet it with an over-strengthened NATO."

Name Graduates
Of State Police

Forty-one Michigan State Police probationary troopers were sworn in Friday afternoon at the sixty-third recruit school graduation in the Music Building at Michigan State University, East Lansing.
Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken gave the principal address to the new officers, their relatives and friends.
Col. Fredrick E. Davids, State Police director, who also spoke to the group, administered the oath of office and presented the graduating troopers with their badges.
Lt. Col. Melvin G. Kaufman, deputy director, announced the assignments for the troopers who report to their posts July 27.
The graduation brings the department's enlisted strength to 1,396, the highest it has ever been but 67 under the authorized complement of 1,463.
Thirteen of the graduates had previous police experience.
Three of them have college degrees, several others have had college courses. The graduates represented 27 counties, two of them in the Upper Peninsula.
Trooper Kenneth A. Sonfeldt has been residing with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sonfeldt of 1706 Ottawa, Saginaw. He will be stationed at the Gladstone Post.
Trooper Richard L. Ager and his wife, Dolores, have been residing at 2260 Allison Street, Saginaw. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ager of Brimley. He is assigned to New Buffalo.
Trooper James S. Grenfell and his wife, Kathleen, have been residing at 217 S. 10th St., Gladstone. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Donald Grenfell of Gladstone. His assignment is to Mt. Pleasant.

Hurricane Pair
Thrash Atlantic
Far From Land
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Dorothy, which started out as the season's fourth tropical storm, thrashed Atlantic waters with top winds of 75 miles an hour today while Ella, still a poorly organized tropical storm, developed far to the south.
Weather forecasters said neither posed an immediate threat to any land area.
Dorothy remained almost stationary about 1,200 miles east of Bermuda. She was expected to move slowly to the north-northeast.
The Miami Weather Bureau said Dorothy's gales extended 325 miles to the north and 225 miles south of the center.
Chief forecaster Gordon Dunn said Dorothy was born unusually far to the north.
Ella developed in the south — east of the Lesser Antilles. Her center was reported by the San Juan Weather Bureau about 675 miles east of San Juan.
Ella's top winds — 50 miles an hour in squalls — moved west-northwest at about 20 miles an hour. Forecasters said she likely would turn to the northwest and slow down.

Learning Helps
Employees To Work Smarter
DETROIT (AP) — Books and dinner pails go hand-in-hand at Ford Motor Co. plants in this area.
Dropouts are being given the opportunity to finish their educations at the plant where they work under a new Ford program.
"It's a program designed to help our employees work smarter rather than harder," said Robert Miller, manager of the plant at Utica.
Ford and the Utica Community Schools are cooperating on the high school program. The company provides the cash and facilities and the school system supplies the teachers.
Teachers will be paid under a new law entitling any person to a high school education if he gets it at an accredited school.
Ford also pays as much as $250 tuition for all approved courses.

Taken By Death

Louise Mosier Larsen, 79, of Rapid River died this morning at St. Francis Hospital where she had been a patient for the past two days.
She was born Sept. 1, 1886 in Quebec, Canada and came to Delta County as a young child. She had resided in Rapid River for 65 years. Mrs. Larsen was a member of St. Charles Church in Rapid River and it's altar society.
She is survived by five sons, William, Carl, Walter and Delbert Mosier of Rapid River and Stanley of Farmington, Mich.; two daughters, Mrs. Elsie Martin, Rapid River and Mrs. Dorothy Gustafson of Perkins, 29 grandchildren, 48 great grandchildren and six great great grandchildren.
Friends may call at the Skradski Funeral Home after 4 p.m. Tuesday and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p.m. Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Charles Church with the Rev. John V. Suhr officiating. Burial will take place in the Rapid River Cemetery.

Michigan GOP
Begins Training
Women's Groups

Hundreds of Michigan Republican women this week will begin a series of political training sessions for the 1966 campaign.
These meetings will emphasize party organization and will be aimed at getting out a full vote in both the Aug. 2 primary and the Nov. 8 general election.
Mrs. John Riecker, Midland, special assistant to Republican State Chairman Elly M. Peterson for women's activities, is directing the campaign workshops, which will begin today in Lansing.
The training team will move into the Upper Peninsula the week of Aug. 15.

U.P. Tour Business Isn't Clubby

Study Tells Growth Needs

The Upper Michigan Tourist Association, with new officers and a commitment to announce a dynamic new program of tourism development for the Upper Peninsula at its annual meeting in October, is reviewing a study of U.P. recreation business made by Dr. Robert C. Anderson of Michigan State University.

Chairman James Gooch of UMTA's new advisory committee said the Anderson study found that "there are no strong non-government ties between Upper and Lower Michigan." Since the study Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. has made a multi-million dollar investment in a natural gas distribution system in the U.P. and is projecting another gas line from Canada through the U.P. and the Lower Peninsula.

"But the U.P.," says Dr. Anderson "has more business trade and communication ties with Wisconsin and Minnesota than with Lower Michigan."

Not Integrated

He found also that the U.P. is not a solid, integrated working region, but that it has many sub-regions around which activities and loyalties center.

"Forestry, mining, agriculture, fishing, utilities, transportation, communications, government and education exhibit the highest degree of total U.P. or sub-region interaction and dependency, while tourism, business and manufacturing operate on a local, community level basis with little or no Upper Peninsula-wide interaction, dependency or cooperation."

Dr. Anderson interprets these findings as meaning that the possibilities of harnessing the present tourism and recreational organization into a total U.P. tourism development program "is very remote." He suggests that it may be possible under certain conditions to secure their involvement and cooperation at the local level on community projects.

Must Know Products

"UMTA could conceivably build sub-region, and in some cases, total Upper Peninsula projects with the active involvement, cooperation and support of forestry, mining, transportation, utilities, communications, governmental and educational organizations that have a direct interest in sub-region and total U.P. activities."

"It seems to me a promotional organization would need to know its products inside and out. How can tourism products (housing, meals, recreational services, etc.) be adequately and rightfully represented by UMTA when:

1. "No product standards have been developed or enforced."

2. "Each product is independently developed and managed?"

3. "All products aren't represented because their producer doesn't contribute to the promotional program."

U.P. Sales Dept.

4. "No corrective action is taken against products that don't measure up to the promotional promises. ("De luxe motel," "superb cuisine," etc.)"

"It seems to me that much of UMTA's past activities have been to serve as an independent promotional agency that never checks with the warehouse or the factory for an accurate description of products on hand and what these products will or will not do," said Dr. Anderson. "It has been operating as a U.P. sales department with no effective link to the production units in the Upper Peninsula. The result has been much misrepresentation, unsatisfied customers, unhappy production units and a general disservice to the Upper Peninsula tourism industry. My blurred image of UMTA may reflect some of the reasons for the current crisis which organization is facing."

Attraction Centers

UMTA, organized in the ashes of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau to serve the Upper Peninsula's need for a tourism promotion agency, has been too busy financing itself for that ever-increasing function to also take on a development program and quality standards policing.

It represents the U.P. in the Michigan State Tourist Council, which promotes tourism throughout the state on a basis of its four regional tourism agencies, like UMTA in the U.P. For this it gets a state subsidy up to $44,000 a year which is paid to match UMTA funds spent on advertising. The UMTA Advisory Committee's current task is to seek the means of creating regional tourist attractions like an operating sawmill, operating mine, botanical garden, zoo, etc., set in a recreation complex of shops, campground, restaurants, etc., to give visitors major objectives in U.P. travel and also to create a Northland grand tour.

Fair Sponsors Display Of Art

Cliff Perras, secretary-manager of the U. P. State Fair, announced today that the Artmobile, with famous paintings from the Detroit Institute of Arts, will again be at the U. P. State Fair this year, from Aug. 16 through Aug. 21.

"American Landscape Paintings at Home and Abroad" is the theme of the 1966 cultural exhibit, and will give fairgoers and opportunity to view original paintings by famous artists. The Artmobile will be located on the midway near the Exhibition building. This exhibit is open to the public during Fair week.

The collection of paintings, the largest of its kind in America, requires a special 42 foot van, built for and presented to the Founders Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts, by the Chrysler Corporation. In addition to interior displays of original art, the Artmobile has panels with self-contained floodlight equipment for exterior display.

The Artmobile, with an entirely different exhibit of paintings, was at the U. P. State Fair last year, and was viewed by thousands of fair visitors. This unit is now on its fifth itinerary of Michigan.

The exhibition will include a selection of canvases from an early 19th century view of Bellefield Farm by Charles Willson Peale to an expressionistic portrayal of the Piazza San Marco in Venice, done in the 1940's by William Congdon. Also included are a "primitive" painting of a street in Brooklyn by an unknown artist of the mid-nineteenth century, James Bennett's view of Detroit in 1838, a western landscape with Indians by John Mix Durand, Childe Hassam's airy impressionist portrayal of Place Centrale, Havana contrasts with contemporary Detroit artist Richard Kozlow's somber abstract, "Madrid."

Mrs. Victor Power of Escanaba, well known Upper Peninsula artist, and volunteer hostesses will staff the Artmobile during its stay at the U. P. State Fair.

Negro Children Enjoy Visit To Copper Country

HOUGHTON (AP) — Twenty-eight culturally-deprived Negro children between ages 9 and 15 returned to Grand Rapids Sunday after a visit labeled here as a big success.

The boys and girls lived for two weeks with temporary dads and mothers and their children. In each case, there was a host boy or girl of about the same age as the guest.

The experiment was sponsored by the Houghton-Hancock Council of Churches committee. The Rev. Norman Riding, Michigan Tech. campus Lutheran minister, acted as negotiator. The experiment was the first of its type in the Michigan copper country. Among other activities, the children toured copper mines and swam in Lake Superior.

Hill President Of School Board

TRENTON — The organizational meeting of the Mathias Township Board of Education was held in the Trenton School recently.

Officers elected for the 1966-67 school year are: Arnold Hill, president; Toivo Aho, secretary; and William Davis, treasurer. The trustees are Richard Carlson, Glenn Peterson, George Richmond and Sarah Smith.

A regular meeting of the school board will be held at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the Trenton School. Included in the meeting agenda will be a public hearing on the budget for the 1966-67 school year.

Suharto Boss Of Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — A new government took control today of this politically and economically shattered nation, with Lt. Gen. Suharto, the army's strong man, in firm control.

The new government left President Sukarno in an even more isolated position, cut off almost completely from any real power. The new 29-member cabinet replaces one of 100 members that Sukarno easily manipulated.

Suharto, 46, made himself chairman of the new Cabinet and defense minister and kept his post as army chief. Beside him he kept the two civilians he named shortly after assuming power in March.

Foreign Minister Adam Malik was named to take charge of political affairs.

Sultan Hamengku Buwono remains as minister in charge of economy and finance.

Suharto also heads a new five-man presidium with Malik, Buwono, First Minister Idham Chali in charge of people's welfare and Sanum Hartawan, a minister of industry and development.

Suharto let it be known that all minister with business must first take it to the presidium. The presidium will then pass it on to Suharto and he will pass it to the president if he feels it is necessary. This new order blocks ministers from going directly to Sukarno as they did in the past.

Kiwanis Golf, Caucus, Dinner Is Held Here

Escanaba Kiwanis members will be host to the Division 17 Nominating Caucus and Golf Match today at the Escanaba Country Club.

Golf was at 2, Caucus at 5 p.m. and dinner at 7 o'clock. Thaxter Shaw is in charge of arrangements for the event as local interclub relations chairman.

Don Ness, president, Escanaba Kiwanis Club, will preside as host at the dinner.

Delegates will nominate a candidate for Lieutenant Governor for 1967 to succeed George L. Best, Iron Mountain, who has served for 1965 and 1966. The name of the man selected will be presented to the District Convention at Green Bay Aug. 14-16, where more than 1000 Kiwanians and their families will gather.

Clubs slated to attend the Escanaba event are Iron Mountain, Iron County, Ishpeming, Copper Country and Marquette plus members of the local club who turned out to welcome the visitors.

How MICHIGAN BANKARD benefits the Cardholder

How MICHIGAN BANKARD benefits the Merchant

1. One statewide, all-purpose charge card that you will be able to use at more than 8,000 business places at home and all across the state.
2. One monthly statement for all purchases simplifies both your budget and tax records.
3. Only one payment to make (saves checks and extra trips). If cardholder pays entire amount within 25 days of statement date there is no charge. If the cardholder prefers, he can make budget payments of as little as 10% per month ($10 minimum) and pay a small service charge on the unpaid balance.
4. Cardholders pay NO annual dues or membership fees.
5. A Shopping Guide of merchants and services will be issued with the charge cards. You can apply for your MICHIGAN BANKARD at any participating bank office or member merchant.

1. Similar statewide plans have increased merchant sales 5% to 50%. Merchants add new charge customers while keeping cash customers. "Impulse buying" increases and "suggested selling" becomes easier.
2. Merchants get immediate credit for all charge sales.
3. There is no credit overhead... no credit checking, no card issuance, no billing and no collecting.
4. There are no credit losses. The merchant gets immediate credit with no risk!
5. Merchants pay a 5% discount on Michigan Bankard charge sales and receive generous quarterly rebates based on charge card volume.
6. Free point-of-purchase advertising is given to every merchant so he can receive maximum benefit from the over half million dollar advertising program scheduled during 1966.

The Greatest Debate

U.S. Senator J. William Fulbright (D-Arkansas) has been much in the public eye — like a gnat, suggests President Johnson — as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and as a critic of our war policy in Viet Nam.

The senator was a professor of law and, for a brief time, president of the University of Arkansas before he began his 26 years in Washington. He drew on both of his careers for an address to the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions on "The University and Foreign Policy."

We are interested here in the enlarging role of the university as an influence on national policy.

Fulbright said that he was not convinced that either the government or the universities were making the best possible use of their intellectual resources to deal with the problems of war and peace in this nuclear age. This debate, in which Fulbright is our chief national advocate for a reinspection of our foreign policy and of our manner of making foreign policy, and in which Mr. Johnson is usually the chief defender of existing policy and policy making method, is one of the most important of our time.

Fulbright suggested we must re-examine old attitudes and keep those which we recognize as still valid in this new kind of world.

Fulbright said he has no definite plan for so large a project but that clearly the universities must accept the principal responsibility for it. "I think every university has an obligation to consider whether its teaching is in fact universal. The university has a responsibility to analyze existing public policies with a view to determining whether they advance or retard the realization of basic human objectives, and whether and how they should be changed."

The growing ties between government and the universities would be accelerated by such a function of course, and Fulbright sees great mutual benefits in relations between the two, but fears that when relations become too close and too highly valued by the universities, the higher functions of the university are in danger of being compromised.

"I suspect," he said "that when a university becomes very closely oriented to the current needs of government, it takes on some of the atmosphere of a place of business while losing that of a place of learning. The sciences, I would expect, are emphasized at the expense of the humanities."

Most wars have been fought over abstractions like: Which is the best nation? The best Religion? The best political theory? says Fulbright, but in an era when the universities favor interdisciplinary studies, little has been done to apply the insights of individual and social psychology to the study of international relations.

Why, for instance, he asks, is it that most young Russians grow up believing in communism and most young Americans grow up believing in capitalism and democracy? "What is the real source of ideological beliefs and what value do they have as concepts of reality?"

A person's world-view, or ideology filters the signals that come to him and give meaning and pattern to otherwise odd bits of information, suggests Fulbright. When an American and a Chinese put radically different interpretations on the Viet Nam war it is not necessarily because one lies but because they filter information through their different world-views. Fulbright thinks the universities could pursue the question of such human motivation and differences in perspective.

"My own feeling," he said "is that an excessive preoccupation with foreign relations over a long period of time is a problem of great importance because it diverts a nation from the sources of its strength, which are in its domestic life. I would doubt that any nation has achieved a durable greatness by conducting a 'strong' foreign policy, but many have been ruined by expending their energies on foreign adventures while allowing their domestic bases to deteriorate."

"The United States emerged as a world power in the 20th Century not because of what it had done in foreign relations, but because it had spent the 19th Century developing the great North American continent. By contrast the Austrian and Turkish empires and the British empire collapsed in the 20th Century in large part because they had for so long neglected their internal development and organization."

It is a rather strange speech from the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. It explains his own change of thought and the basis for his plan that America review its position and strengthen its ability to reconsider established policies in the light of changing facts and circumstances.

Non-Deductible

The defeat of Senator A. Willis Robertson, chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, in the Virginia Democratic primary raises again the familiar questions about the adequacy of our present political financial system. His loss has been attributed, in part, to disclosure of heavy monetary support from bankers in Virginia and elsewhere.

In every state capital there are organizations representing the nation's professions, unions and businesses. These "nonpolitical" groups are handsomely headquartered, well-staffed and heavily financed.

How about the political parties in these same cities? Most have little or no staff personnel; some don't even own a headquarters. All are begging for money.

Only about one out of 10 adult Americans ever contributes to an election campaign. Yet the nonpolitical organizations are supported financially by virtually all of their members. Why this difference?

Perhaps it could be argued that a union member could reap more political hay from a contribution to his union than one to his party. But the simplest—and most realistic—answer seems to be that the union contribution is tax deductible, as are most contributions to business and professional organizations.

Political contributions, as everybody knows, are not deductible, though citizens' groups, political leaders and presidents have pleaded with Congress for years to allow small donations to be written off in this manner.

Judge Not, That Ye Be Not Judged

Mao Has Shadow

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There's a shadowy figure in Red China who moves up in Mao Tse-tung's hierarchy every time Peking runs a major purge.

Some regard him as Mao's hatchet man. Others think he's an opportunist who knows precisely when and where to jump. One American observer says: "He gives you the creeps."

He has come to the fore again in the current Peking purges.

His name is Teng Hsiao-ping, and he sat in the seat of honor next to Mao at a Peking meeting recently.

Teng is now general secretary of the Chinese Communist party. He's today believed one of the top five men in the Chinese Communist hierarchy. Liu Shao-ch'i is still regarded as Mao's heir apparent. But after Liu at least one, perhaps two, of the men above Teng are considered out of the running for deputy crown prince.

But maybe Teng will be out of the running, too, if he missteps in the tricky maneuvering now going on in Red China. Some men just below him are still strong contenders.

Teng's history is curious. He associated in France in the early 1920s with Chou En-lai, now premier; Chen Yi, now foreign minister; and other of the Chinese who now run Communist China.

But Teng didn't rise with them to quick prominence in the Red movement then or in the decade that followed. He was in that period far outstripped by his old colleagues and didn't quite make the grade to the top ranks of the party, despite his old connections with men in high places.

Teng's chance came on the 1954-55 Long March (the famous retreat of Mao and his forces from central China to the north) during which Mao and Chang-Kuo-tao struggled against each other for leadership of the Chinese Communist party.

Teng jumped to Mao's side, got as his reward appointment as political commissar over the military forces formerly dominated by the man he conspired to overthrow.

A few years later, Teng came to Yenan as director of the general political department of the People's Revolutionary Military Council. He moved steadily up to be political commissar for one of the major divisions of Red China, then became one of the lower-ranking vice premiers.

Teng came into prominence again when Mao's authority was challenged in 1954 after the end of the Korean War. Teng and his apparent Liu Shao-ch'i delivered the major speeches against the men being purged.

Teng moved up to the seventh spot in the Chinese Communist party hierarchy and became general secretary of the party.

He has been using that slot to consolidate his strength and to drive out his enemies.

In the present purge, Teng has apparently removed one of his chief rivals for succession to the deputy crown prince role. Teng followed that purge by putting one of his own henchmen into the strategic party post out of which he had ousted his rival.

Teng is a dangerous man and a man to watch.

State Student Aid Application Deadline Aug. 25

LANSING (AP) — Michigan high school students who plan to enter private colleges or universities in the fall have until Aug. 25 to apply for state tuition grants, the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority announced.

The grants, created by the legislature this year, will range from $50 to $250 per semester, depending on the effective income of the student's family.

The Legislature has appropriated $3.5 million for the program. Some 6,000 freshmen are expected to participate this year.

Application forms will be available at 40 participating colleges and universities in a few days, the authority said.

Your Dental Health Wild Muscle Cells

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.

Chief complaint: Patient complained of pain and swelling on right side of palate and face of about four weeks duration and loose molar teeth in upper right jaw. About one week ago he thought he had double vision in right eye. Right side of nose felt "stuffed up." Had nose bleed four days ago. Mouth "tasted bad" and he thought he had bad breath.

Habits: Smokes two to three packs of cigarettes a day.

Dental exam: Patient was a 61-year-old, well-developed, well-nourished male who appeared to be somewhat younger than his stated age. He was apprehensive about his present condition, fearing that he "had something serious."

His mouth was in poor dental condition. Many teeth were missing and he was wearing ill-fitting upper and lower partial dentures. Remaining teeth were elongated, loose, stained dark brown and covered at the necks with dark, almost black, tartar. Gums were bluish-red in some areas and bled easily.

Palatal tissue was grayish white with tiny red spots, characteristic of many heavy smokers. On upper right side of palate there was a large swelling next to first and second molars. Next to first molar there was an opening that seemed to communicate with maxillary sinus. Dark-colored matter could be expressed from this opening. Right side of face was swollen and left eye was partly closed. Right side of nose was slightly swollen. A large mass could be easily demonstrated in right nostril.

Consultation with family physician led to biopsy of nasal obstruction and induced swelling. Palatal area was negative. Nasal biopsy was interpreted as a true of mucocele cell tumor. Some authorities think that this form of tumor is due to a mucocele cell that runs wild.

After complete physical examination, X-rays and consultations with surgeon and X-ray technician, it was decided to treat tumor mass with X-ray. Some impression of tumor was thus obtained. On further consultation of surgeon, X-ray therapist and dentist, it was agreed that surgical removal of remaining tumor was necessary.

This was done. Fortunately, the surgeon felt that "the got around the tumor." Patient with good operation well and has made an excellent recovery. He has been fitted with a removable dental prosthesis which replace missing teeth and flaps, and helps restore normal contours of face.

Prognosis: Good.

Erie Pollution Laid To Army

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — An official of the New York State Conservation Council says the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is a major polluter of Lake Erie and proposes enforcement of federal antipollution laws be transferred from it to the Coast Guard.

The charge was made here by Stanley P. Spisiak of Buffalo, N.Y. before a one-day hearing of the National Resources and Power subcommittee of the House Government Operations Committee.

The congressman was in Rochester to collect ideas for ridding lakes Erie and Ontario of pollution.

Spisiak, chairman of the conservation council's Water Resources Committee, testified the Corps dumps untreated materials collected from dredging operations into a one-square-mile area of Lake Erie.

"The deadly and toxic materials," he said, "are found at beaches as far as 50 miles from the point of discharge."

Rep. Richard D. McCarthy, D-N.Y., told the hearing Lake Erie was in danger of becoming a "huge swamp" unless something were done to halt its pollution.

Questions And Answers

Q—What is the present status of the postal savings system?

A—In March, 1966, the President signed a bill ending the 56-year-old postal savings system. Americans are urged to place their savings instead in U. S. savings bonds.

Ann Landers

Irate Reader Fed Up With Old Prunes

Thank you very much.

Ann Landers: I am not addressing you as "dear" because you are not dear to ME. When you agreed with that miserable, overprotective mother, I could have wrung your neck. There is no reason a 17-year-old girl should not rent an apartment for a month to be near her boy friend who is in the army.

Some 17-year-olds are very mature and they know exactly what they want out of life. I am 17, also, and if my boy friend gets drafted I have every intention of going wherever he is stationed, even if it means dropping out of school to do it.

After all, there's a war on, in case you haven't heard, and every day is precious to young people in love. I can always go back to school, but if Jerry gets shipped overseas I may never see him again.

Dried up old prunes like you ought to mind your own business. If a boy is old enough to fight, and maybe die, for his country he is old enough to do whatever his heart dictates and it's rotten of you to spoil things for him. —FED UP ON YOUR CRUMMY ADVICE.

Dear Fed: I'm sure there is nothing this dried up old prune could say that would make a dent — so I won't try. I do hope you will read the next letter, however. It was written by another 17-year-old girl.

Dear Ann Landers: I read with interest the letter from the mother who was upset because she had not heard from her teen-age soldier son for three weeks. When the mother called his girl to find out if she had received a letter, she learned that his girl had rented an apartment near the base for a month so she could be near her boy friend. I liked your advice, but I'll bet you'll get a lot of letters from girls who didn't.

I've been brought up around the military all my life. My father is a colonel and my older brother is a captain. My boy friend is stationed at Great Lakes and, of course, I am dying to see him, but I wouldn't dream of going out there, even for a weekend, let alone renting an apartment for a month.

Service men DO get leaves and any girl who can't wait until her boy friend comes home had better "readjust her speedometer" to borrow a phrase from Ann Landers — ABLE TO WAIT.

Dear Able: You are ALSO able to express yourself in crisp, forthright language.

Brass bands, colorful uniforms and windy oratory will never again make war seem glamorous.

Then there was the mother who scolded her son for going to the supermarket in his hair curlers.

Thousands of vacationers are learning that the resort brochures belong on the lists of summer fiction.

Ann Landers: My husband and I are in our 70's but we still enjoy life as much as we did 40 years ago. Maybe even more.

Orville and I like to dance. Of course, we do the old style dances, the same ones we have done for a good many years.

Last Saturday we attended a wedding reception and the music was wonderful. Orville and I did enjoy the dancing so much. At the buffet table I overheard some folks talking—they didn't realize I was standing behind them. Both women were criticizing us. They said we were old fools, that we looked ridiculous out there on the dance floor, trying to act like a spring chicken and a young rooster.

I was very much hurt and have been thinking about it ever since. What are your ideas? —BAY CITY HEARTACHE

Dear Heart: Ignore the petty remarks. I'll bet those women are green with envy because you and your husband have more pep than they have. I know of few things as heartwarming as the sight of older folks getting a big charge out of life.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Demarest Ducks Now Sit Pretty

DEMAREST, N.J. (AP) — The ducks of Demarest are sitting pretty. They have all that any duck would want, plus their own bank account.

The ducks haven't always had it so good. In fact, when they first were noticed in Demarest their food situation was critical. But under the leadership of former Mayor Donald Bogert, the Society for the Preservation of Duck Lake was formed to see that the birds got food, particularly during the winter.

When the society's request for funds was turned down by the City Council — the group asked for private contributions. Members even went door to door seeking the $400 a year necessary.

The council continued to refuse to allot money to feed the ducks until this year when the city fathers set aside $300. Since this is shy of the total needed, more private fund raising will be done.

The ducks became a problem five years ago when people began leaving birds near a stream in the North Jersey suburban community. Nobody knows why the ducks were left, but one theory is that someone left one that was an unwanted pet and others followed the lead.

No one seems to object to using tax money to feed ducks, and, as city employee Ed Miller says, "That's the only way they're going to get food."

Another who approves of the food program is 15-year-old Mary Halloran. "There's not much recreation around here, especially for the little kids. They get a big kick out of coming here and feeding the birds." Mayor Joe Rinkelstein doesn't voice any objections, except to say: "I'm not a duck fancier, except when it's on a platter with gravy and potatoes."

Cornell To Head Mackinac College

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Douglas Cornell will be installed as the first president of Mackinac College in ceremonies Sept. 30-Oct. 1. The school on Mackinac Island will open this fall. Initial enrollment is forecast at 250-300. Cornell was executive officer of the National Academy of Sciences for 12 years.

Plane-Truck Crash Fatal To Pilot

DETROIT (AP) — Student pilot Ralph T. Richards, 23, of Clawson, died Sunday in Detroit's Harper Hospital from injuries suffered Friday in the crash of his private plane.

Richards was attempting to land his Cessna 140 at McKinley Airport in Fraser when the plane landing gear hit a truck on Utica Road.

The plane flipped over onto the runway and was demolished. Truck driver William B. Smith, 37, and a passenger, Douglas Sliter, 23, both of Utica, suffered cuts and bruises.

Injuries On Job Cost $1 Million

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Civil Service Department has appointed Edmund Herndon to the new position of safety training coordinator in an effort to reduce job-incurred illness or injury among state employees. The department said benefits for such injuries had tripled in the last 10 years and now cost more than $1 million a year.

Man Changes Nature About

Wildlife May Be Helped

By LEE SMITH
Man-made changes in the pattern of land and water, forests and grasslands, usually are damaging to wildlife, but not always. Some species are benefited. The second growth that followed the logging of Michigan cedar swamps and hardwood forests resulted in the white-tail deer explosion. Bobwhite, quail and cottontail rabbits followed the northward advance of agriculture.

There are species that have established themselves so close to the habitations, where guns are taboo, that they are relatively safe. Numerous bird species nest within the Detroit inner city. Mourning doves, flickers, screech owls, crows, not only, but pheasant and quail rear broods in city backyards, parks and cemeteries. Many less conspicuous birds have also adapted themselves to urban living.

Dr. Walter P. Nickell of the Cranbrook Institute of Science has recorded 63 species nesting on the 300-acre campus of the Institute less than nine miles from the Detroit city limits in the populous Bloomfield Hills area.

"First in order of nesting abundance through the years," says Dr. Nickell, "is the catbird."

Next in abundance was the robin. He reports that in ten years insecticide spraying has reduced the robin population 90 per cent!

Dr. Nickell has made bird-banding trips into the jungles of Central America. He has visited remote islands to band various species of gulls, but of all his field reports none is more interesting than his brochure, "Habitats, Territory and Nesting of The Catbird", published by the University of Notre Dame Press.

The catbird is a species that has benefited by what man has done to his environment. Bushes, hedges, ornamental landscaping give the catbird more of the kind of habitat and nesting territory that it prefers.

Dr. Nickell has made notes on a total of 3,939 catbird nests. He has learned how smart and courageous the catbird is. When a cowbird lays an egg in a catbird nest the catbird punctures the egg or dumps it out. Most birds proceed to hatch the cowbird egg and neglect their own offspring while they toil to feed the lousy intruder. Cowbird parasitism is, by the way, a major hazard for Michigan's unique colony of Kirkland warblers in a restricted area of jackpines in the northern Lower Peninsula.

Chief enemies of the catbird are the nest-robbing red-squirrel, chipmunk and raccoon. Before possession of a protected songbird was made a federal offense, catbirds were in demand as cage birds.

The catbird wants the world to know just how it came to be called catbird. Its regular call might well be mistaken for the meowing of a cat.

The catbird is an excellent imitator. It might be called the mocking bird of the north. Its song compares favorably with the mocking bird's, and catbirds have a longer singing season than most other birds. The catbird also does its best to fill the role of the European nightingale. Its rich, liquid melody is likely to be heard at any hour.

It is good news when an ornithologist tells us that the catbird is prospering.

Truth - Funniest Joke In World

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

Sleepwalking is predominantly a male disorder. Apparently women, even in their sleep, would just rather not go — if they can't go by car or cab.

Only about one in every three paper clips is used to clip papers together. The rest are lost, twisted and thrown away, or used as makeshift screwdrivers or to clean fingernails, typewriters or pipes. In less sedate offices, of course, they are also tired with rubber bands at passing stenographers.

The foods you choose may show how smart you are. People with a high IQ are reported to have a fondness for grapefruit, celery and olives. But if they take their olives only in martinis, they're not so very smart.

Here's a statistic that may surprise you: In about half of all fatal traffic accidents only a single vehicle is involved.

No wonder it is hard to keep a cool head. Scientists have figured that to duplicate the human brain they'd have to build a machine as big as a football field and 60 stories tall. And to keep this mechanical noggin from becoming overheated, they'd require water equal to the amount that flows over Niagara Falls.

Quotable notables: "Every man past 50 who has never owned a Rolls-Royce owes it to himself to buy one" — John O'Hara.

Changing medicine. Druggists now fill more than 750 million prescriptions a year for ailing Americans. More than 70 per cent are for drug products introduced since 1950.

Small consolation: Baldness affects up to 80 per cent of men, and if you are among the nine out of 10 victims in whom it is hereditary, there isn't much hope of regaining your hair. But at least you can pin the blame on your ancestors.

Where the money is: A U.S. Census Bureau economist says that by age 64 the average doctor has earned $717,000, the average lawyer $621,000.

Folklore: It's bad luck to lend an umbrella or handkerchief. If your lip itches, it's a sign someone is speaking ill of you. You'll get warts if you wash your hands with water in which eggs have been boiled. If the bubbles on your morning coffee float toward you, you'll get money; if they float away from you, you'll lose money.

It was George Bernard Shaw who observed, "My way of joking is to tell the truth: it's the funniest joke in the world."

ANSWERS YOUR INSURANCE QUESTIONS

QUESTION: Can you explain when it is wise to insure cameras under a Camera Floater rather than including the cameras in other insurance?

ANSWER: Normally you'd insure under a Camera Floater when your cameras and other photographic equipment had reached a point of considerable value or when other insurance just didn't provide the right coverage. You should see your insurance agent about this.

Beauty Blueprint For Summer Outdoor Girl

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Being the all-American girl by day and a glamorous femme fatale by night is not as difficult as it may sound—even when your days include outdoor summer sports.

Vacation spots offer sunshine, tropical climates and salty ocean breezes.

To beauty problems, however, this means hot sun, hair-straightening humidity, salt spray and sand.

Daytime is for sailing, water skiing and swimming, but after sundown it is time for elegance. This takes planning.

Here is how to make a quick transition from beach-comber to sudden beauty:

- The only shortcut secret is not to get stringy, dry, sun-baked hair and skin. A sensible ounce of prevention to protect your hair from sun and wind is a half ounce of cream rinse whenever you shampoo. For extra protection there is nothing like your hair's natural oils. Stimulate them by tripling brushing time. Why not do this while sun-bathing?
- Keep your hair covered as much as possible. Those conversation-piece beach hats also hide big rollers and no one will ever know.
- To keep your curls from getting wet while diving, try wrapping a terrycloth headband underneath your bathing cap. It will absorb water that trickles in and make the cap fit more comfortably.
- For hard-to-manage hair, invest in today's version of the curling iron. It will put instant curl into limp strands.
- You don't want to be nursing a sunburn when you're getting ready for a night on the town. Apply sun lotion often during the day but choose the one best for your type of skin. Creams pamper dry skin and let you tan slowly and safely. Oily liquids, on the other hand, also keep skin from drying but can encourage burning.
- A shower is the best way to cool off and freshen up quickly for the evening. However, if you prefer to bathe, use tepid water, never cold. Cold water makes you feel hot again in a few minutes.
- When the temperature climbs, make-up has a tendency to melt. So keep a constant check and reapply when necessary.
- Slip into an easy-fitting dress, put on your dancing shoes and have a ball. You'll look ravishing, despite having given equal time to daytime fun.

Pastor Erhard Attends Annual Convention

Pastor John Erhard of the Seventh-day Adventist church left yesterday to attend the Annual Adventist Convention at Grande Ledge. Pastor Erhard will be heling "pitch tent" for the convolve which will run from July 28 to Aug. 7.

Preparation for this session constitutes a major operation for denominational workers in setting up the ten-day temporary city to accommodate 3,000 people. In attendance will be delegates from Michigan's 162 Adventist churches and those commuting by automobile are expected to swell the weekend crowds to nearly 15,000.

Featured speakers of the convolve include H.M.S. Richards, speaker of the radio program "Voice of Prophecy", and William A. Fagal of "Faith for Today," first religious network telecast in the U. S.

The purpose of this annual event, according to Pastor Erhard, is "to re-emphasize spiritual values and the renew the conservation of our church members."

MR. AND MRS. Frank Nowack of Spalding announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jean, to Gerald Weber, presently stationed at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas. The bride-elect is a graduate of Powers-Spalding High School and is presently employed in Milwaukee. The wedding will take place in October of this year.

Detroit Woman Wins Top Writing Awards

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Newspaperwoman Luise Leisner won two top awards of the Michigan Women's Press Club Sunday for her reporting of a custody fight over a 5-year-old Petoskey girl.

Mrs. Leisner, president of the club, received the first place and runnerup awards for the best story in a series. She won for her stories on Gerri Lynn Ernst, the 5-year-old girl who was hospitalized because of emotional strain in September last year during a custody battle between her father, John C. Ernst, and her grandparents. Custody of Gerri Lynn was awarded to the father after the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Flynn, had cared for the child for four years.

Mrs. Leisner wrote the stories as a correspondent for the Detroit Free Press. She now is a staff member of The Detroit News.

The Women's Press Club, concluding its first annual meeting, cited Gladys Bailey of the Benton Harbor News-Palladium for the best feature story—an article on a woman barber. Runnerup was Virginia Redfern of the Lansing State Journal, for a story on the Sisters of Charity.

Kathy Tarr of the Coldwater Daily Reporter won the top award for the best single news story, on her coverage of the Palm Sunday tornadoes last year. Marge Waldo of Grand Ledge, correspondent for the State Journal and the Free Press, was runnerup for a story on problems of county poor homes.

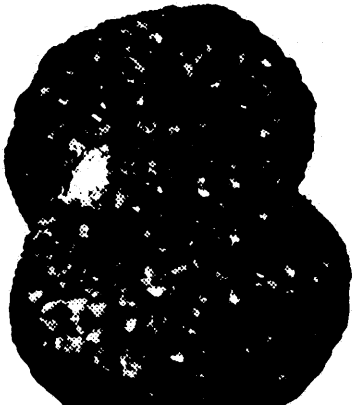

The 55 press club members attending the three-day convention re-elected Mrs. Leisner as president.

The club scheduled its mid-winter conference next February in Niles.

The club was formed a year ago in Benton Harbor.

Big 3 Report Car Sales Up

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co., and Chrysler Corp., all report increased car sales from the middle 10 days of July compared with the same period in 1965.

American Motors said its sales were down for the period.

GM, which supplies more than 50 per cent of the market, said Saturday its sales totaled 121,188 passenger cars during the period, compared with 114,436 in the same 10 days last year.

GM noted there were nine selling days in the 1966 period and only eight in last year's.

Ford, Chrysler, and AMC reported their figures Friday.

South American Has New Captain

HOUGHTON (AP)—Joseph A. Testyon has become the new captain of the SS South American in a change of command ceremony held here. The naval ceremony, which includes reading of the orders and marine inspection by the Coast Guard will take place in front of the ship's 403 passengers in Duluth, Minn.

Game Points Up Why Nations War

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The games some people play may help discover why nations go to war.

In this case, it's a 10-second game played by students under the direction of a University of Michigan professor. The game is called Prisoner's Dilemma and tests pairs of students on whether they prefer to "co-operate" or to "defect" and go it alone.

Dr. Anatol Rapoport, a mathematical biologist at the university's Mental Health Research Institute, has tested hundreds of pairs of students. This is how the game is played:

Players sit in separate booths so that they cannot see each other. Each has a card labeled "C" for co-operate and one labeled "D" for defect.

At a signal each player must decide to either co-operate with his opponent or defect. The players hold up the card indicating their choice.

The players must second-guess each other, much as governments do. If both are trustworthy and co-operate, each wins a point.

If both defect, both lose a point. But a defector may win 10 points if his opponent chooses to co-operate.

Some pairs will consistently choose to defect, Rapoport said. Each is afraid after a while to switch to a co-operating choice because unless his opponent did the same, he would lose even more.

Rapoport compared the dilemma to the arms race between nations. The money involved represents the slow, steady loss, he said, and disarming represents the greater loss if it is one-sided.

One unusual finding was that men players seemed to be more co-operative and less selfish than women, Rapoport said. He added that he applied the conclusion only to the game.

Defies Death Valley

DEATH VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Only three pairs of socks and sneaker soles separate a French explorer from ground temperatures as high as 190 degrees as he attempts to hike the length of this national monument.

Soo Locks Set Cargo Record

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Aided by favorable weather conditions, ships have hauled more cargo through the Soo Locks this year than ever before.

C.A. Aune, chief locks engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers, said vessels carried 45,286,477 tons of cargo through the locks by July 20. This was compared with 39,189,102 tons at the same point of 1965.

Increases mainly were in grain and iron ore, Aune said.

The speedy flow of cargo was attributed in part to good weather. The Coast Guard said no vessels have been grounded near the locks this year. Last year by the end of July, several ships had lost time from transport when they went aground.

A Coast Guard spokesman said vessels have been halted only four or five times by fog on approaches to the locks.

Meanwhile, the $40 million project to build a new Poe Lock is reported on schedule, despite two strikes earlier at the construction site. Completion is scheduled for fall 1967.

Japanese Rocket Launch Success

KAGOSHIMA, Japan (AP)—A three-stage Lambda 3H rocket, forerunner of one Japan hopes will orbit its first artificial satellite by 1968, was successfully fired Saturday.

The Lambda 3H soared to a height of 1,100 miles over the Pacific. A spokesman for the Institute of Space and Aeronautical Science of Tokyo University reported the 60-foot, 8.4-ton rocket was launched from the institute's space observation center in southern Japan.

Lake Cargo Set Records In June

CLEVELAND (AP)—June was a record month for Great Lakes bulk vessels carrying grain and an 18-year high for movement of coal, the Lake Carriers Association reports.

The association said grain shipments totaled 2,744,188 tons compared to a previous high of 2,621,493 in June 1964.

Coal cargoes totaled 7,105,732 tons, highest since 7,626,456 in 1948. Iron ore shipments of 9,937,578 tons set a six-year mark.

Frenchman On Summer Stroll

Because of this heat a ground search party will not be sent to look for Marquant if he should fail to turn up at a checkpoint.

"It would be impossible in this heat," Chief Ranger Homer Leach told the former French paratrooper.

"The only help we can offer is to place a call to Edwards or George Air Force Base, and request a helicopter fly the area to try to spot you," he added.

A support party traveling by truck is scheduled to meet Marquant daily and provide fresh water, iced soda pop, clothing and other supplies.

"We admire Marquant's courage," Dwight T. Warren, park naturalist said. "We have serious doubts he will succeed."

Marquant, armed with salt pills, water and a variety of foodstuffs in a backpack, is making the hike "to show Europeans there is still adventure in the States.

"It is a challenge. The sun is so hot it scorches every part of the body. You become dehydrated and your strength is sapped."

"But because it is a challenge, no one has ever made a long hike in such heat. I wish the opportunity."

He started the 100-mile trek at sundown Wednesday wearing a 10-gallon hat, three T-shirts, gloves, short pants, three pairs of socks and tennis shoes. Marquant also has blue-tinted glasses and a large umbrella.

Death Valley literally is the hottest spot on earth.

Officials say average temperatures in July run from 100 to 130 degrees in the shade, with ground surface temperatures as high as 190 degrees.

Mother Scolds; 3 Are Drowned

MEDA, Portugal (AP)—Mrs. Mendes Perdigao, 50, scolded her daughter, Georgete, 16, on Thursday for not helping enough on the family farm.

Georgete ran off and jumped into a nearby river.

Her mother and sister, Emilio, 19, plunged into the torrent to save her.

None could swim. All three drowned.

Life Is Primitive When Road Blocks Water Supplies

TROY (AP) — A resident of a Troy subdivision says the water shortage is so bad "we have to ship out the kids, like dirty wash, to the homes of friends and relatives, where they can bathe."

Raymond N. Kreecher, who voiced his complaints to the City Commission, is among 13 or 14 residents of Charnwood Three subdivision, who for more than two years have fetched drinking water from homes of friends or relatives.

Kreecher, an engineer, said deep excavations for construction of the I-75 freeway in 1964 diverted the course of natural streams which fed wells in the area. The wells stopped producing.

Most of the property owners have signed petition requesting water service from Detroit. Residents have held off on investing in new well, hoping the Detroit water service soon is extended to them.

Meanwhile, says Mrs. Fred Rosenow, "Our life has become absolutely primitive."

"We haul water from a creek several miles away and have unsightly barrels placed at water spouts all around our home to catch rain water, in order to flush our toilets."

Garden Peninsula Receive Pins

Nineteen boys from three Cub Scout dens received their Bob Cat pins from Cub master Herman Robare and assistant Cub master Nick Thiennes Jr. at a pack meeting at Garden school Wednesday July 20. The pins are pinned on up-side-down by the boys parent and when the boy has done a good deed the pin is turned up right. Boys receiving pins were: Leo Bodette, Chris Froggatt, John Halverson, Bruce Harbenschki, Douglas Harbenschki, James Hermes, David Lester, Ed Lester, David Robare, Allen Spalding, Bruce Spalding, Donald Tatro, Ronald Tatro, Don Thiennes, Rodney LaTulip, Scott Lucas, Jeff Tatro, Mark Guertin and Michael Mead. Cub Scouts have been instructed on swimming, boating, cooking and garden planting and have been taken on tours to Indian Lake and Big Springs by their den mothers and fathers. There will be a leader planning meeting Aug. 24 at the Garden School and a pack meeting Aug. 31. These meetings are open to the public.

Gallant Promoted

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Dr. Clifford J. Gallant, associate professor of languages at Western Michigan University, has been named acting head of the university's language department. WMU President James Miller announced today.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Sawyer Crews Simulate Jumps

Water Survival Taught To Airmen

KI SAWYER AFB—As part of their training, Strategic Air Command flight crews are required to be proficient in water survival. To maintain their proficiency, the personal equipment branch of supply, has established a water survival course.

The most recent course was held at Farmers Lake, Cobblets Northland Park, Little Lake, for the members of the 46th Air Refueling Squadron, 64th Bomb Squadron and a survival equipment. This course provides the crew members with the basics of water survival, which is very important for the lives of the crew members.

Legislature's Service Bureau Bars Ancient 'Vote For Me' Pitch

LANSING (AP) — If you received a letter from your state representative or senator lately and it said in effect "Vote-elect me," chances are it did not come through normal legislative channels in the capitol.

The Legislative Service Bureau—the research arm of and general errand boy to the legislative process—is sticking closely to a joint House-Senate rule that says:

"Legislative duplicating equipment shall be used for official business only, the use thereof for reproduction of personal or party campaign material of any nature is strictly prohibited."

Complained one Democrat: "We used to get this mailed without any trouble when the Republicans were in charge."

But Bureau Director Donald Hoenshell is taking a strictly nonpartisan approach; he's turning away anyone requesting mailings that might violate the rule.

"I even turned away the speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit once—and that's kind of hard to do," said Hoenshell, who was hired after the Democrats took over the Legislature last year and started to revamp the process and procedures.

Each participant is required to make a simulated parachute jump into the water. He then boards the one-man raft and paddles to a 20-man raft. As soon as all are in the water, they board the raft and assemble the canopy.

In case of the actual event, each man would have his own one-man raft. The large raft would be dropped from the plane prior to the exit of the crew members.

A few basic instructions in the classrooms, combined with the actual experience of water immersion, provide individuals with the will and the skill to survive, if the occasion ever arises.

Prior to the practical training, the group was shown a movie on deep sea survival.

Uniform System

LANSING (AP) — Most of Michigan's 19 community and junior colleges will start a uniform financial accounting system this fall, the State Department of Education says.

The schools will use the new forms on a voluntary basis this year—in an attempt to work out any problems before they go to a mandatory standardized system under a law passed by the Legislature this year.

Sign For GI Bill

DETROIT (AP) — The Veterans Administration reported that some 7,751 Michigan veterans have signed up for the GI educational bill. The bill requires the VA to pay the veterans after their first month in school. Amount of payment varies with the number of dependents the veteran has and the amount of time he spends in school.

Service Industries Urged

Tourists No Longer Are Satisfied Just To Look

EAST LANSING, Mich.—Michigan's economy will swing a lot smoother and longer if it adds more service industries, a Michigan State University economist says.

Dependence principally on manufacturing, Dr. John P. Henderson points out, makes the Michigan economy prone to wide fluctuations in income and employment.

The last recession, Dr. Henderson notes, brought home once again Michigan's reliance on manufacturing, particularly automobiles.

"When the next recession occurs," Dr. Henderson says, "the Michigan economy will find itself right back where it was in 1961, for the structure of the economy has not changed. For those who believe what certain sages in Washington are whispering, namely that the national economy is recession proof, the record will have to set them right."

Dr. Henderson, a professor of economics at MSU, says the service industries should be expanded to include trade, finance, transportation, public utilities, government, and miscellaneous services.

The fastest growing area, Dr. Henderson wrote, is the miscellaneous category which includes hotels, motels, hospitals, business and professional, dry cleaning and laundries, education, and repair services.

"A family's investment in durable goods, including cars, appliances, radios, televisions, is at an all time high," Dr. Henderson said. "Very few families do not have to make at least a monthly trip to the repair shop."

The tourist industry, according to Dr. Henderson, has not made rapid strides in recent years.

Tourism in Michigan, Dr. Henderson noted, has traditionally relied on the state's natural beauty to lure tourists.

"Tourists now are not satisfied to just look at a lake or river, no matter how beautiful it may be," Dr. Henderson points out. "Without luxury hotels and motels, good eating establishments, swimming and other recreation areas, tourists will not come to the Michigan Water Wonderland."

"What the great majority demands and buys in most tourist states," Dr. Henderson says, "is a motel with color television, a plush cocktail lounge, and a restaurant that serves escargots and sole veronique."

Dupuit Alfalfa Favored Variety

About two-thirds of the Michigan acreage in alfalfa is Vernol, a locally developed variety, but a shift is being made to Dupuit, a French variety that shows great promise. Dupuit gives farmers a better chance for a second crop in one summer. It recovers fast after the first cutting, which is essential in getting a second cutting.

There are some faults in the French variety, but they are not serious. It is not wilt-resistant, but this disease is not a problem yet in the U.P. It does not have longevity and disappears at about the fourth year. For the Upper Peninsula most rotations are 3 or 4 years so the life of Dupuit is satisfactory.

More U.P. alfalfa should be fertilized, farm specialists say. Some farmers have the false impression that alfalfa produces its own food. Alfalfa produces its own nitrogen, but is a heavy feeder on phosphate and potash. The phosphate and potash must be furnished in commercial fertilizer. An application of 250 pounds of a 0-20-20 fertilizer each year would double yields, compared to no use of fertilizer.

The United States has a total of 27,480 miles of inland waterways.

Lake Superior College Plans Huge Fieldhouse

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The chancellor of Lake Superior State College announced planning is underway to build a $2 million fieldhouse and housing for married students.

Kenneth J. Shouldice said the expansion plans are the result of authorization by the State Board of Education on June 29 of a four-year school at Lake Superior. Lake Superior formerly was the Sault branch of Michigan Tech.

Shouldice said the Sault St. Marie City Commission's recent action transferring 95 acres of Camp Lucas property to the college has paved the way for immediate expansion plans.

Architects have been ordered to plan 24 one and two-bedroom apartments for married students. And Shouldice said he will seek funds to design a $2 million field house.

Ore Carrier Sets Record

A new record for the largest boatload of iron ore to move out of Escanaba was established last week when a vessel with 23,220 long tons on board departed from the 102-year-old iron ore port.

The vessel was the Shenango II, operated by the Shenango Furnace Co. of Cleveland. The boat was loaded at the Chicago and North Western Railway's ore dock with iron ore from the Wauvea Mine at Iron River, which is operated by Hanna Mining Co. Destination of the boat is Shenango's facility at Detroit.

The record load was made possible by deepening of dock slips and other dock improvements at a cost of $1,300,000 by the North Western two years ago. North Western's dock is the only one on Lake Michigan.

Last year the ore carrier E. L. Ryerson of the Inland Steel Co. established the previous Escanaba port loading record with 24,680 long tons.

Escanaba is the oldest iron ore port on the upper Great Lakes. The Chicago and North Western Railway established ore loading port when it built an ore dock as well as rail lines to inland mines in 1864.

Willie Hunter On Policy Support Hike To Capital

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Willie Hunter is a 17-year-old Negro who is demonstrating his support for U.S. policy in Viet Nam by hiking from Georgia to Washington.

The high school student says he is not a member of any civil rights groups. He plans overnight stops with friends along Interstate 85 through South Carolina and North Carolina to the nation's capital.

He rode a bus from his Atlanta, Ga., home to the South Carolina line to start his long hike Sunday. Hunter spent Sunday night with friends in Greenville.

The youth is carrying a knapsack containing the suit he hopes to wear if he is able to see President Johnson in Washington.

He says he wants to ask the President to speak at a rally Aug. 5 at the Lincoln Memorial.

US Officials Won't Comment; Ho Wire Denies Trial Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department withheld comment today on a cable from North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh to the Columbia Broadcasting System declaring there is "no trial in view" for captured American airmen.

CBS had sent a message Thursday to the North Vietnamese leader asking whether he had decided to place the airmen on trial. Ho's four-word reply, in English, was received Sunday. The Hanoi government had indicated earlier that the captured pilots would be tried as war criminals. The Pentagon says about 45 Americans are captives in North Viet Nam and contends they should be treated as prisoners of war.

Roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman again cautioned Hanoi Sunday against going through with threats to try the Americans, but declined to predict what sanctions the United States would invoke if the trials were held.

Harriman, appearing on a locally televised program, "Meeting of the Minds," on WRC, also indicated that Hanoi has shown no willingness to exchange the U.S. airmen in the North for several hundred North Vietnamese prisoners held in the South.

But the American, who heads U.S. efforts in behalf of the American prisoners, said "there has been some movement" in efforts to free some 18 GIs held by Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Rep. Roman C. Pucinski, D-Ill., said Sunday in Chicago that Hanoi would violate its own pledge for safe treatment of prisoners if it does try the U.S. airmen.

Pucinski displayed a leaflet printed in both English and Vietnamese and signed "South Viet Nam Liberation Army."

"Obviously, you are a prisoner of war. You have no rights and no responsibilities to observe the code of conduct of the U.S. Army," the leaflet said in part.

"The South Viet Nam National Liberation Front is struggling for national independence, having justice and applying a human, lenient policy towards prisoners of war. No killing, no beating, no humiliating prisoners of war."

Pucinski apparently reached his conclusion on the official U.S. policy that Hanoi control and directs the operations of the National Liberation Front, or Viet Cong as it generally is known.

Thus, he said, "There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that Hanoi will conduct a monumental violation of its own code for treatment of prisoners of war if it attempts to prosecute or otherwise punish our American soldiers."

Marine companies until sunset Sunday, driving off helicopters trying to evacuate wounded and blocking a reinforcement attempt.

South Vietnamese troops reported killing 47 Viet Cong in two weekend operations, one in the swampy Mekong Delta 120 miles southwest of Saigon, the other in Tay Ninh Province near the Cambodian border.

Buddhist politics cast a shadow over Saigon again with the temporary replacement of the moderate monk Thich (Venerable) Tam Chau as chairman of the Buddhist Institute. He gave health reasons for stepping down after easing the quarrel between the Buddhists and the military regime. His successor is Thich Thien Hoa, who may not be so amenable to compromise.

Pilot Program May Begin Next Summer

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Who says there's a lack of adventuresome spirit in American education?

Certainly not a group of Lower Michigan teachers who are wading right out into Lake Michigan and into a venture they are organizing under the name Summer Science, Inc.

They have acquired 550 acres of Big Summer Island in Delta County off the southern tip of the Garden Peninsula and propose to establish a summer school for students interested in the natural sciences.

One of the steps in the project was taken this past weekend when they arrived at Fairport (fishing village near Summer Island) a 50-foot landing craft the group purchased from the Defense Supply Agency. The craft left Colonial Beach, Va., in late June and arrived at Fairport on Saturday.

It will be used for the transportation of building materials and supplies.

E. Daniel Stevens of Ann Arbor and Whitmore Lake, president of Summer Science Inc., outlined the project while waiting for the LCM (which they named the Flash) to take off for Summer Island.

"Our major problem — and doesn't it sound familiar? — is one of money," he said.

Start With Biology But there's no lack of opportunities for financing, he pointed out. A program is being designed to present to government and private groups to raise the funds.

Completion of the camp calls for $212,000 to finance the immediate physical facilities and operating needs.

"If the necessary finances don't come through, the camp program will be somewhat abbreviated for the first year," Stevens continued. "But regardless, we plan to have some type of program by 1968 and also plan to start a pilot program next summer."

Original plans call for facilities to accommodate 110 students for an eight-week course. These facilities include a dining hall, swimming area, central lodge, recreation fields and a modern research laboratory.

The school courses will start with biology and then cover other areas of the natural sciences, Stevens explained. The camp staff will consist mainly of counselors, who will be college students interested in such sciences, and teachers who will be experienced in both science and education.

Members of the directors of Summer Science Inc. include several men well known in educational circles in Michigan and the Middle West. Dr. Alfred E. Sussman, for example, of Ann Arbor, is director of the botany department of the University of Michigan.

Program Unique The program, however, will not be devoted strictly to class work. Swimming, riflery, boating, softball, nature hikes and expeditions to other islands are planned.

Immediate plans are for just a summer camp, but with an eventual year-round operation goal. There also is a possibility of conducting a four-week program with more emphasis on class lectures preceding the regular eight-week camp.

The organization presently is established as a profit-making corporation. But it is working toward becoming a non-profit, educational corporation, in order to emphasize its goal as an educational instrument. In addition, such a set-up would aid in reaching another goal of directly serving high schools for accredited summer school courses in the natural sciences.

"We feel our camp program is unique for two main reasons," says Stevens. "We will have one of the few actual science camps, rather than just a camp that specializes in science. And this will be unique in that it brings together scientists and educators in a common program."

U. A. Johnson New Ambassador To Japan For U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today "with deep regret" the resignation of Edwin O. Reischauer as U.S. ambassador to Japan and the selection of U. Alexis Johnson to succeed him.

Reischauer, who has been ambassador for more than five years, is resigning to return to the faculty at Harvard University.

Johnson, currently deputy undersecretary of state, is the highest ranking career officer in the State Department and a longtime specialist in Far Eastern affairs.

Small Business Group Widens Representation

STEPHENSON — The Small Business development committee of Menominee county has broadened its membership to include representation in Hermansville, extending the availability of loans and management guidance to the northern part of the county.

Herbert Corey, Stephenson, committee chairman, announced the following new members and their sub-committee appointments: James Gribble, interviewing subcommittee; Elmer J. Pipkorn and Reuben J. Marcoe, loan application; Frank Rodman, publicity and Arthur E. Schultz, new ideas.

With these additions, the Menominee county committee has achieved complete reorganization and its pursuing the objectives of the Small Business Development center, to provide business loans and management training and counsel, and to develop new ideas for business and industry in the county, Corey said.

Loan applications for four new and existing businesses are being processed and more in the preliminary stages of inquiry.

Astronauts Fly Home To Families

HOUSTON, Tex. (A) — The record-breaking Gemini 10 astronauts flew home today for a happy reunion with loved ones and to finish describing for officials details of three days in space.

Navy Cmdr. John W. Young and Air Force Maj. Michael Collins, America's newest space walker, bounded off a space agency plane into the waiting arms of their wives shortly after midnight after a delayed flight from Cape Kennedy, Fla. Also on hand were several fellow astronauts.

The spacemen arrived about four hours late at Ellington Air Force Base. A plane sent to Cape Kennedy to fly them home developed an oil leak on the way to Florida, and another had to be dispatched from Huntsville, Ala.

Young and Collins, both 35, splashed back to earth Thursday after scoring the world's first dual rendezvous with two satellites, even though they faced a critical fuel shortage in their tiny space ship.

Collins took two excursions outside the vehicle — a space stand during which he spent nearly an hour standing in his seat taking pictures, and a walk that lasted about half an hour.

School Polls Open Until 8

Polls will remain open until 8 p.m. today in the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate school district reorganization election.

Voter turnout this morning was light. Four questions are being considered separately. Any or all of the proposals could pass. If all are approved, 19 existing school districts in the two counties would merge into four.

Proposed for merger are the Escanaba and Bark River-Harris school districts; Gladstone, Rapid River, Rock, Perkins, Flat Rock, and Brampton; Cooks, Garden, Fairbanks and Nahma; and Manistique, Thompson, Hiawatha, Fairview, Doyle, Mueller and Germfask.

All registered voters in the two-county area, plus those in the Bark River-Harris district in Menominee County are eligible to vote on the proposals.

A simple majority is required for passage. Votes will be counted by proposed district.

Hamtramck Cops Picket Dedication Of New Building

HAMTRAMCK (AP) — A group of city policemen and their wives picketed dedication ceremonies for Hamtramck's new Department of Public Works building Sunday, protesting what they said were low wages and inferior working conditions.

The policemen, members of Hamtramck Lodge 109 of the Fraternal Order of Police, demonstrated in front of the $600,000 building as city officials welcomed visitors.

The President of the policemen's group, Sgt. John Sitek, said the city had offered policemen a $1,000 yearly wage increase and other benefits on July 5.

Three days later the council cut the pay raise offer to $500, Sitek said.

Hamtramck Mayor Joseph J. Grzecki said the cut had been necessary when the city was ordered on July 6 to pay $1 million in retroactive pension benefits.

Policemen in the city got a starting salary of approximately $6,300 with raises to $6,900 after three years. The policemen also demanded increased insurance benefits.

Cubs Capture Legion Title

The Escanaba Cubs rode the bats of Ed Gauthier and Tom Brawley into the Upper Peninsula American Legion baseball finals Saturday and Sunday at Al Noss Field.

With Gauthier slugging six hits in two games and Brawley poling a three-run homer in the first inning of the championship game, the Cubs defeated Manistique 5-3 and Powers 12-2 to continue their string of district titles which stretches back to the early 1950s.

Powers advanced to the title game against Escanaba by beating Manistique 15-3 in a loser's bracket game Saturday. Gauthier, a left-handed swinging right fielder, lashed a triple, double and single and scored two runs in the Cubs victory over Manistique Saturday morning, then added three more singles against Powers.

Slugs Homer
Brawley gave the Cubs a 4-0 lead against Powers in the first inning of Sunday's final game with a home run with Gauthier and Roger Wood aboard and drove home another run with a single in the eighth inning.

The Cubs hammered 22 hits in the two games, while pitchers John Way, Jim Boyle and Wood yielded only seven. Way fired a two-hitter against Manistique and Boyle and Wood combined for a five-hitter against Powers.

Escanaba never trailed in either game.
In the victory over Manistique, a triple by leadoff man Dan Mylander and an error netted the first run and Gauthier's double and a single by Lee Robitaille made it 2-0 in the first inning.

The Cubs stretched the lead to 5-1 before Manistique made it close by scoring a pair of runs without a hit in the eighth inning. Way retired the side in order in the ninth inning to gain the victory.

Powers-Spalding, which had lost the tournament's first game 7-6 to Manistique Friday night, rebounded Saturday to eliminate the Chiefs 15-3. The winners scored 11 runs in the seventh and eighth innings to break open a 4-3 game.

Dave Smith and Randy Fochesato each had a pair of hits to lead the Powers attack. Fochesato has three singles against the Cubs in the final game, giving him five hits in 12 appearances for the tournament.

The Cubs will play next weekend at Iron Mountain in the Zone 5 (Upper Peninsula) tournament.

Plane Dives Into Golf Course:

Tony Lema Killed In Crash

LANSING, Ill. (AP) — Tony Lema, the delightful Champagne Kid whose quick wit and flashing smile had charmed the golfing millions of two continents, died as he had lived—on the golf course.

Lema, 32, his wife Betty, and two others were killed Sunday night when their light plane plunged into the manicured turf of the seventh green of the Lansing Sportsman's Club. Lema was scheduled to play in the one-day $12,000 Lincolnshire Tourney at Crete, Ill., today.

The other victims were Mrs. Doris Mullen of Joliet, Ill., the pilot, and Dr. George Bard of Kankakee, Ill., the copilot.

The plane was en route to Joliet from Akron, Ohio, where Lema had been in the Professional Golfers' Association Championship Sunday. It crashed and burst into flames on the Lansing Sportsman's Club course.

A witness, Bud Dorton, said the low-flying plane swerved to avoid a group of people standing near the clubhouse, the engine died, then started and died again, and the plane plunged to the ground, digging up a furrow near the seventh green before bursting into flames.

"The pilot was a hero," he said. "The plane swerved to the left—if it didn't a lot of people would have been hurt."

Lema, a slender, handsome man with an impish grin, flashing blue eyes and thinning hair, was one of the world's leading professionals. His death brought shocked reactions and tributes from throughout the golfing world.

"He was one of the greatest golfers I've ever seen," said his business manager, Fred Corcoran. "I'm all broken up. He was exciting to watch."

"Tony was one of the real great guys on the tour," said Jack Nicklaus, the Masters and British Open champion.

"A shock to all of us—a real loss to the game," said Max Elbin, president of the PGA.

"We were like brothers," said Ken Venturi of San Francisco, the 1964 U.S. Open champion. "I have known Tony for 20 years. In fact, my mother gave him his first pair of golf shoes. I just can't believe it."

"He was a man's man, a player's player," said Tommy Jacobs, chairman of the PGA players committee. "Most of us didn't understand Tony when he first joined the tour. But we learned we were just taking him the wrong way. We found he was a great guy."

Born In Oakland
He was born in Oakland, Calif., and grew up and played on the municipal courses in and around the San Francisco area until he joined the Marines in 1952.

He spent 13 months as an assistant pro in the San Francisco area after leaving service, took a job as head pro in Elko, Nev., then joined the professional tour in 1957.

The first five years were tough ones for the Californian with the bubbling personality. His earnings didn't go over $12,000 a year during that period. But in 1962 his game began to jell and he acquired the nickname that was to become his personal trademark—Champagne Tony.

It was at the Orange County Open in California that year when he saw some reporters drinking beer in the press room. "Fellows," he said, "I win this tournament, it's going to be champagne for everyone."

He won, and the champagne flowed. He followed it up with a champagne party after every other victory, which became more and more frequent.

Wins In Britain
He was fourth on the money-winning list in 1963 and skyrocketed to golf's upper echelon in 1964. That year he captured the Bing Crosby, the Thunderbird and Buick opens and the hearts of the British.

He flew to Scotland for the British Open, played that year at craggy old St. Andrews. He had never before played the course, nor had he ever used the smaller British ball, nor did he even practice.

Loose and relaxed he took a 73 on the opening round, then set his raw, barge into the lead and held off a closing challenge by Nicklaus to win the tournament, one of the most prestigious in the world.

He came back to the United States sporting a gold cigarette holder.

"Just a gift from the former King of England," he told some players in a locker room. Actually, it was a gift to him from the Duke of Windsor, a golf enthusiast.

He also won the $50,000 World Series of Golf in 1963. His earnings soared to $101,516.62 in 1965 and he won the Carling World and his second straight Buick Open.

This year, he had won the Oklahoma City Open and had earnings over $50,000. He had finished only in a tie for 34th in the PGA, however, shooting a 295.

"He should be an example for a lot of youngsters," said PGA President Elbin. "He was a knocked-about kid in California and he pulled himself up by his bootstraps and made a success of himself."

Funeral arrangements are pending.

Dorothy Coulter Wins Nahma Golf

Dorothy Coulter of Gladstone put together rounds of 44 and 46 for a 90 Saturday to win the 2nd Nahma Women's golf tournament.

Marie Esther, Prairie du Chien, Wis., was second with 95 and Sally Fontaine of Escanaba and Kate LaBrasseur of Manistique tied for third with 96.

Sue Sarnowski and Bea Lambert of the Highland tied for the handicap title with 73. Jane Oakwood and Ann Hartington finished in a tie for second at 74.

Track Stars Break Two World Marks In Weekend Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two world records were broken and three American marks fell, but a pair of weary decathlon men gasping through the shadows of evening climaxed the drama.

Track and field stars in the two-day Los Angeles Times International Games were plentiful Saturday and Sunday.

John Pennel set a world pole vault mark of 17 feet, 6 1/2 inches; Australian distance phenomenon Ron Clark was a double winner at 5,000 and 10,000 meters; Jim Ryan won the half-mile, and the U.S. 1,600-meter relay team clipped a second off the world record.

But as the sun set on the run of Memorial Coliseum Sunday night, 25,000 of the 31,150 attending remained. Russ Rodge and Bill Tomney, after four consecutive afternoon of exertion in 90-degree heat, faced the concluding 1,500 meters, with a possible world decathlon mark in sight.

Holds Record
Looney holds the pending mark of 8,234 points, set in Salina, Kan., earlier this month. He broke fast and set the pace.

As the track announcer called the lap times, the crowd stood to cheer the struggling runners to the tape. Tomney crossed the finish line and collapsed into the arms of teammates. Rodge followed.

Both had come just short of the needed times, but Rodge, who missed by only 8 seconds, was the winner with 8,230 points, and was voted the meet's outstanding performer. Tomney trailed with 8,219.

The only world mark to be broken Sunday was the 1,600-meter relay standard. The U.S. team of Bob Frey, Lee Evans, Tommie Smith and Theron Lewis is clocked at 2:59.6 eclipsing the 3:00.7 run by the American team in the 1964 Olympics.

Smith, who returned to competition after a leg injury, won the 200 meters in 20.5 before racing an incredible 43.8, 400-meter leg in the relay.

Ryan ran a record-breaking 3:51.3 mile last weekend in Berkeley, Calif., but was unenthusiastic about his half-mile time of 1:46.2 and 800-meter clocking of 1:45.5 Sunday.

Three U.S. Records
The 19-year-old Kansas freshman said, "I wasn't really sure about getting a record, since it's pretty hard to get yourself keyed up every week. Something went wrong with the pace, and then I felt heavy the last 200 yards."

Pennel's vault broke the record of 17-5 1/2, set by his apartment roommate Bob Seagr, earlier this spring.

The three American marks were set Saturday before 27,846. Triple jumper Art Walker of Los Angeles nipped, stepped and jumped 54-11, exceeding the 54-7 1/2 he registered a week before in Berkeley.

Charlotte Cooke, the 18-year-old high school student from Los Angeles, was timed in 2:05.8 for 800 meters and 2:01.6 for 800 yards, bettering her previous mark of 2:04.7 and 2:05.0, respectively.

Stock Cars Draw Near 3,000 Fans

The crowds keep getting bigger and the racing hotter at the State Fairgrounds Saturday night.

Another record draw of near 3,000 fans Saturday watched Escanaba drivers captured five of nine races, including both the modified and stock feature races.

The U.P. Stock Car Association announced there will be two more weeks of Saturday night programs before the U.P. State Fair, racing at the Fair is scheduled both Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. with time trials at 12:30 p.m.

John Nelson of Escanaba captured the stock feature Saturday, taking the lead on the fourth lap and outlasting Red DeAntonio of Ironwood. Rich Peterson of Escanaba was third and Fred Horrocks of Gwinn fourth.

Bobby Iverson of Escanaba

lost the tournament's first game 7-6 to Manistique Friday night, rebounded Saturday to eliminate the Chiefs 15-3. The winners scored 11 runs in the seventh and eighth innings to break open a 4-3 game.

Dave Smith and Randy Fochesato each had a pair of hits to lead the Powers attack. Fochesato has three singles against the Cubs in the final game, giving him five hits in 12 appearances for the tournament.

The Cubs will play next weekend at Iron Mountain in the Zone 5 (Upper Peninsula) tournament.

City Babe Ruth Tourney Opens

The Escanaba Babe Ruth league baseball tournament will get underway at 6 p.m. today at the Babe Ruth field with the Bankers meeting the Teamsters.

Tuesday at 6 p.m. Mead meets Harnischfeger Local.

Winner of the Banker-Teamster game will meet league champion Kiwanis at 6 p.m. Wednesday with the Mead-Harnischfeger winner facing Insurance Thursday. Winners of the Wednesday and Thursday games will clash for the tournament title at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

The regular league season ended last week with Kiwanis repeating as champion.

In the final regular season game Saturday, Harnischfeger Local bombed Bankers 15-4. Roger Chylek and Al Thorben-son led a 14-hit attack with three hits each. Chylek drove in three runs and scored a fourth and also checked the Bankers on five hits from the Harnischfeger mound.

Allan Larson bagged three of the five hits for the losers.

Teenager Upset Western Victor
BARRINGTON, Ill. (AP) — In a sub-par 35-hole duel that should be recorded as a historic one in the 66-year history of the Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament, teenager Peggy Cudde pulled a major upset by defeating Barbara Fay Boddie, the 1964-65 winner, 2 and 1.

Barbara Fay, 26, of Shreveport, La., accepted defeat gracefully Saturday and said: "Peggy must have eaten horse-dung for breakfast. She certainly deserved to win this one."

Over the rolling Barrington Hills Country Club course, Miss Cudde, 19, of Socklake, Wash., an art student at the University of Washington, was seven under the regulation for the distance of her match. Miss Boddie, daughter of a golf pro and wife of his assistant, was six under par.

Peggy was the national junior champion in 1964 and a member of the Curtis Cup team this year.

Power Failure In Houston Fails To Hamper Pirates

By The Associated Press
Nobody ever thought they would have to halt a game in Houston's Astrodome while it was raining, but it happened Sunday.

The delay came in the eighth inning of the game between Houston and Pittsburgh as rain splattered the outside of the dome. However, that's as far as the rain got.

Under the dome everything was dry. Everything wasn't bright, though.

By coincidence, a power failure knocked out some lights and the umpires wanted them repaired before the game continued.

Pirates Stay Hot
The Pirates, on the other hand, didn't have a power failure. They continued their torrid hitting, whipping the Astros 11-6 and maintaining a one-game lead in the National League pennant race.

The light failure came shortly after the Pirates broke a 5-5 deadlock with a four-run rally in the seventh.

Repairsmen checked the situation but decided the work would have to wait until after the game.

As far as the Astros were concerned, though, the damage the Pirates had done the inning before was irreparable.

In other NL games, San Francisco defeated Philadelphia 4-1, Los Angeles swept New York 5-0 and 6-0, St. Louis trimmed Chicago 7-4 in 10 innings after losing 10-7 and Cincinnati edged Atlanta 4-3 in 10 innings before bowing 3-4, also in 10.

The Pirates' hitting was almost as hot as the lights. Down hitting, they scored three runs in the fourth inning, the last two on Bob Bailey's homer.

Mays Homers
Willie Mays hit his 22nd homer of the season and 527th of his career in the Giants' victory over Philadelphia. Tito Fuentes, whose single triggered a two-run first inning, also singled before Mays connected.

Don Drysdale pitched a six-hitter and hit his 29th career homer in Los Angeles' opening-game victory. John Kennedy and John Roseboro also homered for the Dodgers.

In the nightcap, Joe Moeller and Phil Regan combined to blank the Mets on five hits. Lou Johnson and Tommy Davis each drove in two Dodger runs with singles.

Chicago's George Altman collected three hits in the first game, including a fifth-inning home run that snapped a 4-4 tie and ignited a four-run rally.

St. Louis came back for the second-game triumph on Lou Brock's three-run homer in the 10th. Brock put the Cardinals ahead 4-3 in the eighth when he scored from first on Jerry Busch's two-out single, but Adolfo Phillips tied it with a homer in the Cube's half of the eighth.

Vada Pinson raced all the way home from first on Dick Kelley's wild pitch and Joe Torre's wild throw in the 10th inning, boosting Cincinnati past Atlanta. Pinson earlier hit a home run.

The Braves won the 10-inning nightcap on Joe Torre's second homer of the game. Torre drove in three runs in all while Hank Aaron drove in two with a homer and a single. Gordy Coleman knocked in two Cincinnati runs.

Tribe, Tigers Each Win 700

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians beat the Detroit Tigers for the 700th time Sunday as they won the first game of a double-header 3-0.

For revenge, the Tigers beat the Indians for the 700th time, winning the nightcap 2-1.

After playing each other for more than 60 years the teams are now even in their series.

The Tigers scored only two runs in 19 innings Sunday but managed to eke out a victory on a run-scoring single by Mickey Stanley in the 10th inning of the second game.

Joe Azcue hit a home run and drove home another run with a single in the first game to lead the scoring for the Indians.

Max Alvis started the scoring with a double with two out in the second to score Chico Salomon, who had singled. Azcue followed with his run-scoring single, giving the Indians a 2-0 lead.

The Cuban catcher made it 3-0 when he left the fifth inning with a homer — his fourth. Steve Hargan gave up nine hits in posting his fifth victory in 11 starts.

Denny McLain took the loss for the Tigers. It was his seventh of the season, which also includes 13 victories.

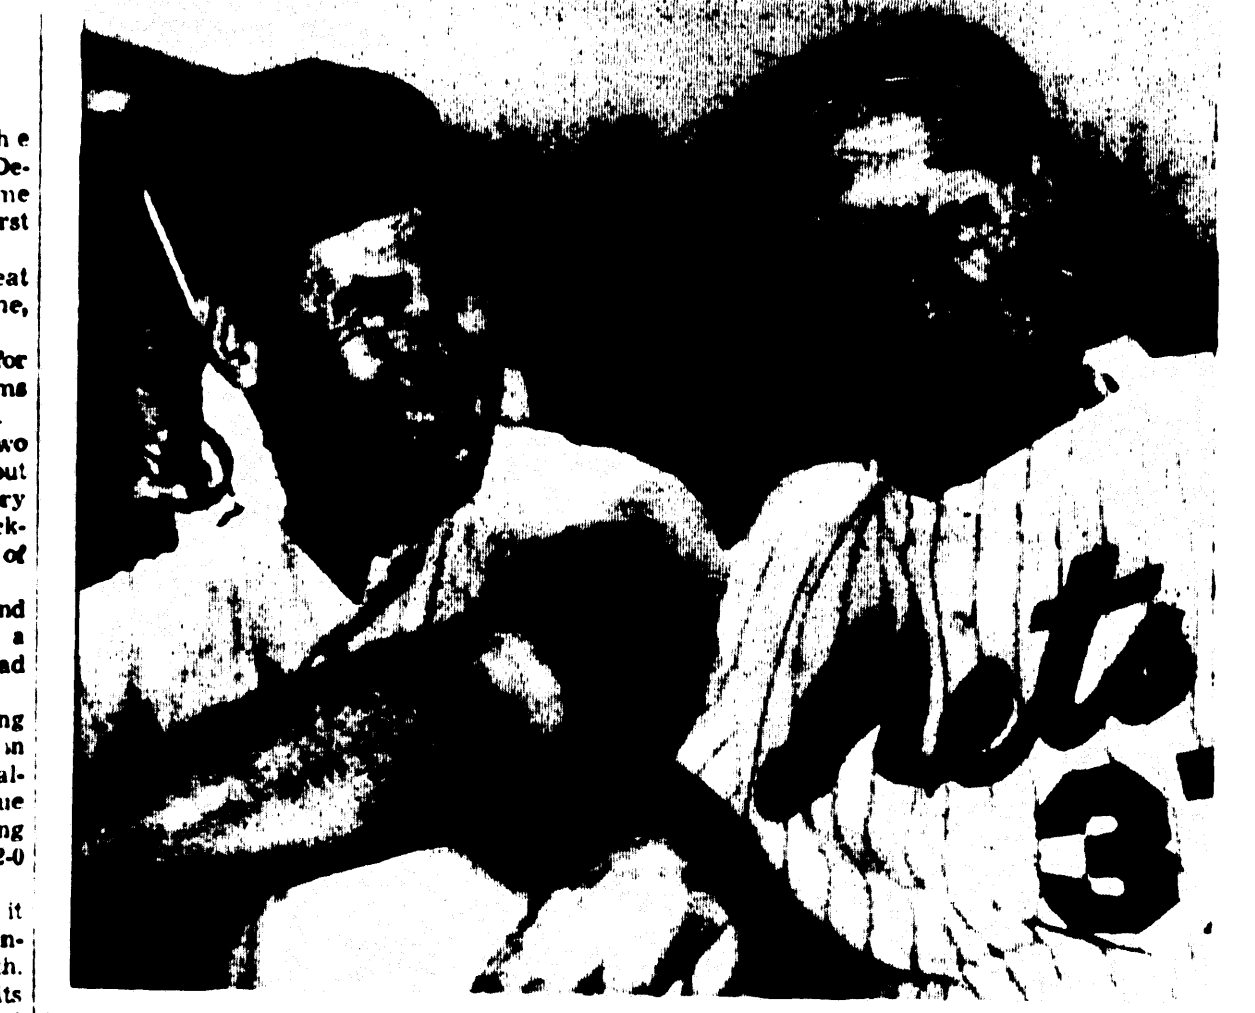

Norm Cash started the Tigers' winning rally in the second game with a one-out single. Tom Kelley then walked Orlando McFarlane, and Stanley followed with a single to left field.

McFarlane broke a scoreless tie in the fifth inning when he slammed a home run over the left field fence off Kelley.

Del Crandall then tied it in the bottom of the fifth with a homer off Detroit starter Johnny Podres.

The game was delayed 39 minutes because of rain in the eighth inning.

The Tigers headed for Chicago today for a game with the White Sox. They play a two-night doubleheader Tuesday.

Chisox' Howard Is Making Name As Ex-Mistake

By The Associated Press
Bruce Howard, once best known as Denny McLain's ex-roommate, is suddenly the Chicago White Sox's ex-mistake.

Back in 1963, the Sox had to decide whether to hold on to Howard — who beat Baltimore 4-0 Sunday — or to option him out in favor of McLain, who also was on the club.

They chose Howard, and McLain was shipped up by Detroit where he won 16 games last season and 13 during the first half of this. Howard struggled to a 9-8 record in 1965 and blistered on his fingers kept him from effectiveness the first months of the current season.

But McLain, who threw three perfect innings in the All-Star Game, has fallen on evil times of late — he lost his third game in a row Sunday — and the hottest pitcher in the league at the moment is ex-roommate, ex-mistake Bruce Howard.

Yankees Sweep
McLain, in the meantime, was being shipped in the Tigers' last game loss to Cleveland 3-0.

Hall Of Fame Inducts Two

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Casey Stengel and Ted Williams were formally inducted into baseball's Hall of Fame today.

Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert presided at the 10 a.m. EDT ceremonies marking the admission to the Hall of Stengel, one of the game's most successful managers, and Williams, the last of the 400 hitters.

Stengel, who won 10 American League pennants, and seven world championships in 12 years with the New York Yankees, was named to the Hall in a special election held in March after the normal five-year, post-retirement waiting period had been waived. Casey retired last August as manager of the New York Mets.

Williams, now No. 4 on the all-time home run list, was voted in with 93.4 per cent of the ballots cast by 10,000 veterans of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Ted finished his 18-year career in 1960 with a lifetime batting average of .344 and 521 homers. He won six American League batting titles and captured the Triple Crown — batting, homer and RBI titles — in 1942 and 1947. In 1941, he hit 106.

Sports In Brief

TORONTO (AP) — Top-seeded Mike Belkin of Miami, Fla., won the Ontario International Tennis Championship Sunday by defeating Allan Fox of Los Angeles 6-2, 6-2, 6-4.

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Mick Gannon, 18, has a good start on his college education because he got a bag in the Professional Golfers Association Championship.

Gannon drew the bag of Al Gabberger, who won the title and $25,000 Sunday. The tip, $1,000.

West Virginia's football team will have white helmets, white pants, striped in gold and blue and blue jerseys for home games. On the road the Mountaineers will use gold jerseys.

Twins Win

Washington escaped the league's cellar with its two victories over the Athletics. Roger Repoz hit a homer in the first game and Ken Harrison and Paul Casanova each hit one in the nightcap.

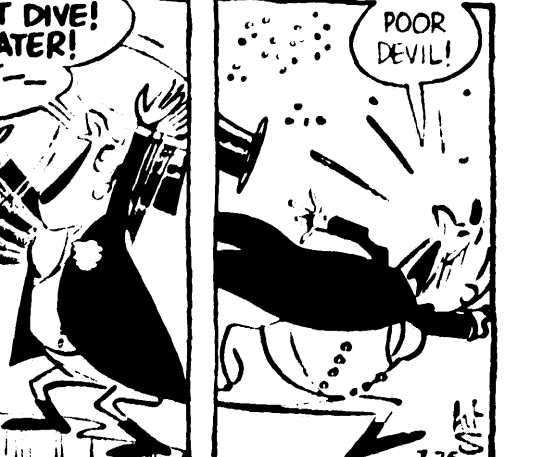

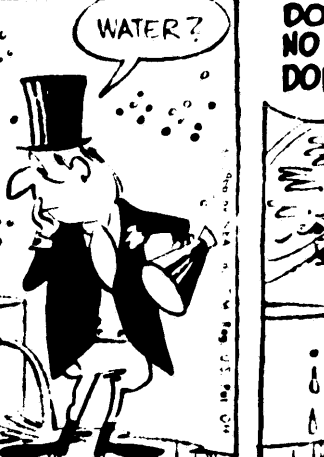

A two-run home run by Cesar Tovar sent the Twins to their victory over Boston. Jim Perry, not the yan, the 20th over Boston in his career. Tony Oliva, batting cleanup the last two years, got two hits to edge in within one point of the Orioles' Russ Snyder, who leads the league at 330.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Bruce Howard, Chicago, pitched a four-hitter as the White Sox defeated American League-leading Baltimore 4-0 and stopped the Orioles' seven-game winning streak.

BATTING — Adolfo Phillips, Chicago, collected two singles, two doubles and a homer, scored five runs, drove in two and stole two bases in the Cubs' split of a doubleheader with St. Louis.

U.P. History Meeting Set

An Upper Peninsula Historical Society conference is scheduled July 29-30 in Escanaba.

Ralph W. Johnson of the University of Michigan broadcasting services will speak on techniques of oral history for radio at the Friday morning session beginning at 10 a.m.

Registration is from 9 to 12 noon in the House of Ludington.

A 12:30 p.m. luncheon will have Robert Schmeling, president of the Delta Historical Society presiding and G. Harold Earle discussing lumberjacks and sawlogs and the Wisconsin Land and Lumber Co.

A Dutch treat social hour is scheduled at the Terrace Supper Club Friday night. Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press will preside, and Philip P. The 8 p.m. session following the dinner will have Charles Folio, of the University of Michigan Extension Service presiding for a discussion of folklore of the Upper Peninsula. Wallace Cameron, Guy Knutson, Elmer Peterson and Jean Worth will serve on the panel.

Saturday, a guided tour of the historical restoration of the abandoned town site of Fayette is scheduled.

City Council Hearing Set On Bar Building

A hearing on condemnation of the building at 210 Deer St., known as Majestic Bar, is on the agenda for the City Council meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in city hall.

Also scheduled is discussion on a proposed amendment to the anti-blight ordinance dealing with grass mowing, primarily on vacant lots and premises.

Old business will include consideration of a resolution to impose deed restrictions formerly on Jennie Putnam property south of Lakeview Cemetery to a parcel north of the water storage tank. Exchange of land bequeathed to the school district has been approved by Circuit Court order, which calls for the imposition of like restrictions on the new parcel.

A resolution verifying condemnation of a house at 708 Steuben and second reading of an ordinance regulating motorcycle and motor-driven cycle use will also be considered.

Retired Teacher Chapter Planned

A meeting to organize a retired school teachers chapter in Schoolcraft County will be held at Manistique High School at 1:30 p.m. July 27.

Menominee and Marquette have the only existing chapters in Upper Michigan at present but there have been several requests for others.

Health insurance, low cost travel, workshops and education courses are among services provided. Bulletins on legislation are sent. All retired teachers have been invited.
